MARION RACES IN NEW HANDS

Maywood Organization Hired by Matinee Club To Run Harness Program.

The Maywood organization, operator of the famed Maywood track at Chicago, will operate the harness racing meet here this summer, James Reed, attorney for the Marion Matinee club, announced today.

The Matinee club, to whom the State Racing commission awarded the July 3 to 24 summer racing dates when Frank Foster's Marion Trotting association gave up plans to hold the meet, will still back the meet, but hired the Maywood outfit to handle the actual operation of the races.

The Chicagoans, who also will operate the racing at the Hilliards and Lebanon tracks in Ohio, will provide a general manager, Orlow G. Owen, a Michigan man, and a racing secretary, probably John W. Dailey, an Ohioan, and will handle the betting.

In Full Charge

They will provide the equipment, plan the various events, stakes, prizes, etc., and will advertise the racing events in the trade magazines.

In former years when the Marion Trotting association held the meet, Frank Foster usually acted as general manager, Reed said, and outsiders handled the betting and classification of horses that is the job of the racing secretary. George Peterman of Troy was for a number of years racing secretary here.

The Matinee club plans to run the races as nearly as possible to the manner in which they were held in former years, Reed said. The Y's Men's Service club will again handle the concessions and the women's board of the City hospital will again sponsor advance ticket sale.

Have Other Races

Besides their own track in Chicago and a number of smaller tracks, the Maywood organization runs the races at Northville Downs, Michigan. General manager Owen is from Northville, Reed said.

The possible racing secretary, John Dailey, is well known in Ohio, Reed said, and will act as secretary for the Hilliards meet, which ends just before the Marion meet starts.

Reed said the Maywood organization was highly recommended and called it "the best we could get." He said the Matinee club had given up plans to conduct the actual operation of the races because of the specialization of knowledge needed.

A racing secretary must know all about horses, their records and abilities to be able to classify them for a particular race.

Handling of betting entails a certain amount of capital and special equipment besides the ability to set odds.

The Maywood organization is under contract with the Matinee club, which holds the lease on the track, to handle these special events, Reed said.

Drive for Community's Quota in Fight Against Disease To Start Monday.

A total of 450 persons, or more than 100 per year contacted the cancer clinic located in the Marion City hospital, since it opened Feb. 15, 1945, figures compiled by the Marion County Chapter of the American Cancer society, show. The local chapter is sponsoring the local drive to raise $7,500, the county's quota in the national campaign for cancer control which gets under way Monday.

Of this number 45 returned for repeat examinations, making the number of patients number 495. Nineteen biopsys were done, of which 10 were positive, and possible cases referred to family physicians for further study or treatment numbered 69. X-rays done at an expense of $100 numbered five.

Doctors Give Services

Local doctors contributed 120 hours of service during each year and purchases for the clinic included two examining lights, instruments for two complete biopsy trays, six bed sheets, an instrument cabinet and sterilizer. The local chapter also maintains a cancer center where information regarding the disease is available free of charge.

Fifty per cent of the contributions received in the local drive remains in Marion county, 10 per cent goes to the state, 15 to the national society and 25 is used for research.

Campaign Opening Monday

The campaign in the city and county will get under way Monday night with a dinner at Hotel Harding at which Dr. William C. Myers of the faculty of Ohio State university will be the speaker.

At this time also the results of the essay contest for pupils of the public, parochial and county schools will be announced.

The campaign will be conducted in a house-to-house canvass and a tag day will be held on April 17, it is announced. Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct the tag day.

Grid Official Takes Marionites Behind the Scenes in Football

By W. T. BUCHANAN

William A. Blake of Indiana Harbor, Ind., lawyer, industrial counselor for a steel company, and noted football referee, last night addressed 332 Marion men at the annual fellowship dinner of the Manufacturers Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce held in the Masonic temple.

For an hour Mr. Blake regaled his audience with lore of the gridiron in a series of anecdotes and real happenings accumulated over a period of 20 years experience with the sport in midwestern and Big Nine conferences. A story teller of rare ability he kept the audience in a roar of laughter by his accounts of the "funny things that happen each fall Saturday afternoon on the football fields—things the spectators see but seldom understand."

Without a trace of false self-esteem Mr. Blake readily admitted that football officials sometimes are "the four blind men in striped shirts" the spectators take them to be. He offered a few instances of actual happenings to prove the point.

Take his account of the Michigan-Northwestern game a few years ago when the Wolverines were studded with stars including the great Westfall.

Referee Fooled

The Michigan ace's mastery of deception was attested by Blake. He could fool them all, including the referee. Mr. Blake recited the incident this way:

Westfall received the pass from center, faked to another back going around the left end, and then with head down drove for 15 yards into a big hole the Michigan lineman had opened.

"It was a great spot for the referee. The play was in the center of the field, right in front of the Michigan bench.

"Northwestern finally brought Westfall down in a great heap of struggling players. Here was the time to show that the referee was right on the job, so into the pile I went—tossing players off the pile and shouting, 'Give me the ball, give me the ball.'

"But when I got to the bottom of the heap Westfall didn't have the ball. The faking back who went around left end had it and was streaking unnoticed toward the Northwestern goal line.

"I believe divine providence looks after 'blind referees' as well as little children. What else could have caused him to stumble and fall before scoring to save the face of an embarrassed official.

"I will always hold it to the credit of Michigan Coach Crisler that he has never taken the opportunity to remind me of this incident."

Mr. Blake told of a number of the "famous bulls" pulled by football officials, including some of his own. He pointed out how these incidents can "snatch a referee from obscurity and put him on every newspaper sports page and radio sports broadcast in the country.

"In the normal walks of human endeavor if a man leads a good and upright life he eventually will receive the public notice to which he is entitled. But a football official is a nobody until he has pulled a boner of such magnitude that sports writers and announcers call attention to his dereliction on a nationwide basis.

"When this happens, the football official is made."

Often the victim of misunderstanding on the part of radio announcers and sports writers as to the meaning of gridiron rulings, Mr. Blake last night had a chance to even the score with them.

He took keen delight in clearing up one incident in which a radio announcer said he tossed a coin to decide whether a touchdown had been scored.

"It was in the Navy-Notre Dame game. The score was tied and in the last play Notre Dame, in the shadow of the Navy goal,

Americans Fly To Miss Russian Berlin Barrier

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, April 1—The Americans, refusing to pass their trains through Soviet inspection to get them to Berlin, decided today to use planes to bring in passengers and freight.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, military governor, announced special flights will be added from Frankfurt in the United States occupation zone to U. S.-controlled Tempelhof airdrome in Berlin.

He said for the time being all U. S. military train travel to and from Berlin is canceled and the extra flights will serve as relief fill-in.

He had just conferred with his British counterpart, Lt. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, to discuss what action should be taken against travel restrictions imposed in the Soviet zone, separating Berlin from the western zones.

The British made no immediate announcement as to whether they will install extra flights from their zone to the Royal Air Force's Gatow airport here.

(British European airways in Hamburg said civilian air traffic from there to Berlin will be normal today.)

Restrictions Protested

American and British train traffic between Berlin and the west was stopped early today because of the Russian restrictions, which the U. S., Britain and France protested.

The restrictions do not affect air travel.

Clay said the Russian stoppage of train traffic—imposed to enforce inspections—could not be broken immediately without force.

The position of the Western Powers was one of waiting for replies from the Russians to their protest notes. These notes, delivered last night, rejected the Russian measures as unacceptable and a violation of Allied agreements.

The issue was the latest to arise between Russia and the western Allies in the four-power control of Germany.

Call Council Non-Existent

(In Moscow, Yuri Korolkov wrote in the Communist newspaper Pravda, "the partition of Germany has become a completed fact." He said the control council "has factually ceased to exist as the supreme four-power authority for Germany.")

The Russians demanded yesterday that, starting at midnight, all passengers and freight entering their zone be subjected to inspection at the border control points.

British and American authorities ordered their train commanders not to yield to this demand. The result was that four passenger trains were stopped at Barienborn, Soviet check point some five miles east of the border with the British zone.

Seen as Move To Force Western Powers Out

By International News Service

PARIS, April 1—The Soviet move to establish strict control of traffic into and out of Berlin is viewed by diplomatic circles in Paris today as a maneuver to force occupation units of the Western Powers out of the former German capital.

This attempt to try to "annoy" the Western Powers out of Berlin comes as no great surprise to American officials.

Western military and diplomatic representatives in Berlin have been convinced ever since the Russians started their boycott of the four-power control council that attempts would be made to obstruct western taffic to and from Berlin.

GAS HOME HEATING DECISION REPORTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—The state utilities commission today authorized gas companies to provide heating for new homes to the extent of their capacity to meet the demand.

The commission ordered, however, that installation of conversion burners in old houses for hardship cases be given priority over heating units for new ones.

The commission issued a supplemental order, effective at noon today, modifying its order of last Oct. 3 which banned all new gas installations for space heating.

The new order provided for installation of heating units for new housing and conversion burners for old houses on a 50-50 basis under the conditions set out in the order.

Chairman Harry M. Miller said the effect of the order was to leave it up to the gas companies to determine how much additional service they could give the public.

The commission found that Ohio's natural gas shortage would continue through the winter of 1948-49. It kept in effect restrictions on industrial use of gas. Gas companies still have authority to cut off industrial users first in event of an emergency.

House and Senate Experts Press for Completion of Aid Bill.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 1—A team of senate-house foreign experts went swiftly to work today on a final, compromise bill for a global American aid program.

House passage of its $6,205,000,000 measure by better than a four to one margin handed the job to the compromisers last night.

The goal is to get a bill to President Truman before the week runs out. Both senate and house will have to vote first on the compromise.

What the experts agree to will be the final terms of a program to use America's billions and military knowledge to help Europe and China hold the line against communism.

On that broad purpose there is no disagreement between the senate and house. Differences are over details.

Covers All

What the house approved by a 329 to 74 ballot was a wrap-up bill to provide assistance for Europe, Greece, Turkey and China. Leaders had set April 1 as a deadline and barely squeezed the measure under the wire.

The senate previously had passed three senarate bills, one for Europe, one for China and a third for Greece and Turkey.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the senate foreign relations committee already has agreed to follow the house lead on a single bundle bill.

The basic parts of the house and senate bills are pretty much alike.

Both provide for a $5,300,000,000 one-year European recovery program to help 16 nations get back on their feet.

Both have voted $275,000,000 in additional military aid for Greece and Turkey.

Both have voted for economic help for China, the house for $420,000,000 for 15 months, the senate $363,000,000 for 12 months.

In addition, the house included $150,000,000 marked definitely for military aid for China. And the

Truman Not For Franco in ERP

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 1—Senators and house members working out a compromise foreign aid bill agreed today to strike Spain from the list of nations eligible to share in the aid. They acted within less than an hour after the White House announced President Truman is "utterly opposed" to this provision.

• • •

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 1 — The White House said today President Truman is "utterly opposed" to the "Welcome Franco" provision the house wrote into the European recovery plan.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross so quoted the Chief Executive to reporters. He said Mr. Truman hopes the provision will be knocked out before congress finally finishes work on the measure.

Ross volunteered the President's views at a news conference.

He said he had talked with Mr. Truman about the provision to include Spain in ERP. He added:

"The President is utterly opposed to that provision.

"He trusts it will be stricken out in the conference on the bill."

The efforts now being made to compromise differences between proposals by the senate and house are known in congressional language as a "conference."

State department officials particularly are upset by the Spanish section with the bill by the house.

EXTRA HOURS SET FOR REGISTRATION

Election Board Prepares for Last-Minute Rush.

To accommodate the inevitable last-minute rush of persons seeking to register before the deadline Monday night, the county board of elections office will remain open until 9 p. m. Friday night, until 5 p. m. Saturday afternoon and until 9 p. m. Monday night, it was announced today.

Persons who must qualify for voting at the May primary have until 9 p. m. Monday night to meet the requirements.

Election board officials report a steady stream of persons registering, checking to see if they are properly registered and reporting transfers for the past week or two as deadline time draws near. With the total qualified voters already over the 14,000 mark, officials predict the eligible voters in the May primary may top 15,000 in this presidential election year.

BRICKER HEADS TAFT FOR PRESIDENT CLUB

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1 — An Ohio Taft-for-President committee, with U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker the chairman is being organized.

Fred H. Johnson, Republican state chairman, said the committee will be completed within a week and will include "several hundred leading representatives of every group and every county."

Bricker, Ohio's junior senator, had been mentioned as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, but he left the 1948 choice for his senior colleague, Sen. Robert A. Taft. Bricker was vice presidential candidate in 1944.

Johnson said Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth of Cincinnati, widow of the late house speaker Nicholas Longworth and a longtime family friend of the Tafts, would be one vice chairman.

Taft-for-President clubs have been organized in 71 counties, Johnson reported.

Columbus Communist, Ousted from Home, Says Party To Remain Active.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—Communist Frank Hashmall has abandoned his mob-damaged home, but declares the party "will remain, continue to expand its activities," in Columbus.

The 28-year-old self-styled executive secretary of Franklin county Communists, sent his furniture into storage last night. (Neither he nor his wife supervised the movers.)

Then he issued a statement, bitterly denouncing Tuesday night's storming of his home. A gang of 30 or 40 broke in when the Hashmalls were away and virtually wrecked the interior besides breaking most of the windows.

"Here is living proof," his statement said, "of the Communist position that force and violence is started by reaction and not by those who believe in progress and socialism.

"It is obvious that the Columbus police department had orders not to protect my home. In fact, according to newspaper accounts, the police have burglarized my personal books and effects. This is in keeping with their lawless policy.

Regardless of Threats

"For more than 20 years," the statement went on, "the Communist party has been an active organization in this community. Regardless of any threats of illegal deportation by the police and the equally guilty sheriff, the Communist party will remain, continue and expand its activities.

"If these so-called officers of law enforcement would study history they, like their teacher Hitler, would discover that the Communist party does not dissolve nor retreat before fascism."

Hashmall's reference to deportation dealt with Sheriff Ralph Paul's suggestion that the New Yorker might be made to leave town as a menace to the community. Paul said last night he found no way to effect this, but added:

"The law enforcement agencies will not tolerate outsiders coming into this community for the purpose of provoking breaches of peace or destroying by violent means the American way of life. . . . On the other hand, we counsel our citizens that they must use due process of law."

Movers removed Hashmall's household belongings without incident, although about 100 persons stood in the rain and jeered. A police guard watched the proceedings.

Bricker Not Surprised

Meanwhile, U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) and top Communist party officials had their say on the matter.

Bricker in a speech before the Ohio Society at Washington, said he was "not surprised."

"They don't like Communists in Columbus," Bricker said. "It's that kind of a city and Ohio is that kind of a state. We don't need any Communists out in our state."

William Z. Foster, national Communist party chairman, and Eugene Dennis, general secretary, demanded in New York that Governor Thomas J. Herbert and Columbus Mayor James Rhodes take "immediate action to investigate and punish" those who stormed the Hashmall home.

"As a public official responsible for life and property, it is your duty to take all necessary steps to apprehend and prosecute those who participated in this

Men Are Lined Up Against Wall; Arrests Here Made in Record Time.

City police scored a lightning pickup of two Marion men here last night following an armed robbery of a pool and card room in Upper Sandusky.

At 9:30 p. m. last night Wyandot County Sheriff B. H. Stansberry answered a call to the pool and card room in the rear of Landforsell's grocery on Walker street in Upper Sandusky where six angry customers told him they had just been robbed by two armed men. Sheriff Stansberry obtained descriptions of the robbers and placed a call to Marion police at 10:20 p. m., giving them the descriptions including a tentative identification of one of the robbers made by a victim.

Police Check Files

City police, checking the descriptions against records in police files, picked up Paul Robert Clark, 29, of 1311½ South State street at the Dixie hotel, 140½ North Main street, at 10:44 p. m., 24 minutes after being notified of the robbery. The second suspect, Raymond Edward Littell, 29, of 276 Park boulevard was arrested at 1:31 a. m. at his home, and taken to headquarters.

Shortly after the arrest of Littell, Deputy Sheriff Carl Stansberry arrived at police headquarters with the six robbery victims. Four of the victims made a positive identification of Clark as the man who lined them up against the wall, shouting "Get your hands up, this is a stick-up," while covering them with a 45-caliber automatic pistol. Two of the victims positively identified Littell as the man who searched their pockets, relieved them of their money, and scooped about $10 in quarters from the card room cash register. Sheriff Stansberry estimated the total loot as $210. City police said a search of Littell's car revealed papers identified by one of the victims as having been in his wallet at the time of the robbery.

Taken to Upper Sandusky

Both Clark and Littell were removed to Wyandot county jail last night by Sheriff Stansberry, assisted by Deputy Carl Stansberry and Patrolman Pritchie of the Upper Sandusky police.

Wyandot County Prosecuting Attorney Russell C. Price said charges of armed robbery would be filed, probably this afternoon, against both Clark and Littell.

Police files show Clark has a record of nine previous arrests here and has twice been bound over to the grand jury in the last 12 years, the most recent case being on a charge of armed robbery on July 31, 1947, on Columbia street, for which the grand jury did not indict him.

Littell has a record of six previous arrests in the last 11 years and has twice been bound over to the grand jury, once on a charge of breaking and entering in 1940 and once on a charge of auto larceny in April 1939. His most recent convictions include a conviction on a charge of hit skip driving Oct. 18, 1944, for which he was fined $100 and costs and his driving privileges suspended for three years. On Oct. 17 of the same year he was arrested for driving while his license was suspended and upon conviction in municipal court was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail. On March 30, 1947 he was convicted of reckless driving and fined $10 and costs on charges filed by the highway patrol.

BEAR CREEK, PA.

DOWN south by now the dogwood blooms are stirring, but here in the Pocono mountains patches of snow still hide from the warm fingers of the sun.

The robin has begun to outshout the chickadee only in the last few days. The squirrel patters across the roof top in morning glee. The trout in the busy brooks begin to dream of wayward flies.

And here, with spring ready to touch its torch to the countryside and turn the hills into green bonfires, I have to go back to the city again. Back to the concrete forests and the subway maze where you tell the changing seasons by the way chewing gum sticks to your feet. And I hate to go.

Hal Boyle

Every time I spend a week in the woods I come to believe anew with the poet that "God made the country, and man made the town."

Yes, mankind made the cities, and mankind is stuck with them—and in them. Mankind has lost touch with nature and become the prisoner of its own inventions.

Much wisdom lies in legend and myth, and there is an old Greek myth that explains man's plight pretty well. It concerns Antaeus, a Libyan giant and wrestler.

This African pioneer grunt and groan artist was no character to meet in a dark alley. He was the son of Poseidon, god of the sea, and Gaea, the earth mother. He insisted that every stranger who came through his country had to wrestle with him—and he built a temple of their broken skulls.

LIKE ALL WRESTLING exhibitions his had a gimmick. But Antaeus never asked his manager to fix his matches in advance. The secret of his success was that whenever his body touched the earth—his mother—his strength redoubled.

Thus he was invincible until a wise muscle artist named Hercules came along. This outdoor Jimmy Londos simply grabbed Antaeus, held him up in the air—and throttled him. Antaeus became helpless once he lost contact with mother earth.

So do we all. As we more and more lose touch with nature, the wellspring of our simple animal joys and vegetable pleasures, we lose our zest and sparkle.

We find ourselves doing more things through a sense of duty and fewer things for pure fun. We work to get things we don't need or really want. We are caught on a machine age treadmill that leads us constantly away from our birthright into a wilderness of gadgets.

INSTEAD of the meaningful beauty of the sunset, we have the meaningless information conveyed by the neon light. Instead of fresh air, we breathe conditioned air—when we can get it. Instead of food fresh from the soil, we have the sanitary vitamin pill.

I was running off at the chin like this the other night to a doctor who built himself a place in the woods.

"That's all fine theory," he said, "but you can carry this back-to-nature stuff too far.

"I put about $4,000 worth of landscaping into this place and the deer came down one night and ate up about $3,987 of it. I put out $1,700 more in shrubbery and they nibbled off about $1,695. Then I put up a brand new electric fence.

"Believe me, it pays to keep a little something between you and nature."

Marion "Ham" Radio Operator Talks To All Six Continents

The world is as close as his back yard for Evyn H. Walton of 244 South Vine street, Marion amateur radio fan. According to a news release received today from the American Radio Relay League, national amateur short wave broadcasters organization, Walton has been awarded the coveted WAC (worked all continents) certificate of the International Amateur Union for having communicated with at least one "ham" station in each of the world's six continents.

In qualifying for the award as a 10 meter radiotelephone operator he talked with amateurs in Wiesbaden, Germany; South Gate, Calif.; Johannesburg, South Africa; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Hastings, New Zealand; and Yokasuka, Japan. The Japanese and German contacts were made with American military men there on occupation duty.

Talks To Famous Hams

During his many years of "ham" radio Walton has talked to many celebrities of the airwaves including Freeman F. Gosden, the "Amos" of "Amos 'n Andy," Ed Gardiner the "Archie" of "Duffy's Tavern," and radio's most famous woman "ham," Dot Hall of Long Island, N. Y.

Possibly the greatest thrill Walton has ever enjoyed in radio was keeping Tom Gregg of Sycamore in touch with his family there by daily calls to the LST on which he was returning to the states from Pearl Harbor. On many other occasions after the war ended Walton called for and received messages from troopships returning servicemen to this country and relayed the messages by telephone and mail to relatives of the servicemen all over the country.

Walton is in daily contact with James Gorenflo, former resident of Marion now living in San Diego, Calif. Arrangements have been completed to contact Major and Mrs. Don Eggleston in Tachekawa, Japan, Saturday, April 3, so Mrs. Eggleston may talk to her father Paul A. Fetter of 183 Bain avenue from Walton's station here in Marion.

15 Stations In Marion

There are 15 amateur radio stations in Marion, all of whom maintain daily contact with all parts of the world. Unlike his fellow "hams" Walton is the only ham here who operates from two locations. By April 9 he will have moved his station to South Amboy, N. J. where he operates a summer drive-in restaurant. His wife and two daughters, Patricia and Jo Anna, will remain in Marion until school closes but Walton will be in daily contact with them through fellow "hams" in Marion, until the family is reunited for the summer. "That's what I like about radio," said Walton, "just as handy as a pocket in a shirt."

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is 888 Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people 888 Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of 888 Tonic from your drug store today. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

D.A.V. Chapter Holds Anniversary Party

Approximately 100 members and their families and other guests attended an anniversary party held by Marion Chapter No. 22, Disabled American Veterans, Tuesday night in the American Legion Dugout on South High street. The party, the first to be held since the beginning of the war, was in celebration of the founding of the local chapter.

Albert L. Croy of Ohio City, O., department commander of the D.A.V., as guest speaker, discussed reasons why a veteran should belong to at least one veteran's organization. Also a guest was District Commander Gilbert Kritzer of Wapakoneta, O.

Entertainment included tap dancing, acrobatics, singing and Hawaiian guitar music by a group of Marion people.

A dinner was served preceding the meeting. The food which had been prepared and not used was donated to the Marion county children's home following the meeting.

CATFISH IN SKY NO JOKE

By The United Press

SYDNEY, Australia—J. Kempley and Cass Singe were sent to the hospital by a fish 150 feet in the air. They were cleaning out a rooftop water tank when stung severly by a six-inch catfish stranded in the bottom.

O.S.U. Music Director Wed to Galion Woman

Special to The Star

GALION, April 1—The director of Ohio State university's symphony orchestra, appearing in Galion Tuesday at senior high school auditorium is the husband of the former Helen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Murphy of Galion. He is George E. Hardesty.

Featured artist with the orchestra is Dale Bechtel, violinist, who with his brother Robert, trombonist, are from Mansfield. Dale Bechtel, pupil of Director Hardesty, is a veteran of World War II and returned in 1946 to OSU to continue studies in music under Prof. Hardesty. He did extensive trouping as an entertainer during the war, also he was a member of the Army Air Corps in Texas. He is concert master with the OSU symphony group of 70 pieces.

Appearance of the orchestra in Galion is sponsored jointly by Kiwanians and the music department of Galion High school.

PERSONALLY DELIVERING DONATIONS TO DENMARK

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 1—Personal delivery of several large trunks of clothing to needy in Denmark will be carried out by a Bucyrus couple, Mr. and Mrs. Soren D. Johansen, who are making a trip back to their homeland this month.

The boxes of clothing, several of which have been shipped ahead, were contributed by organizations and persons here upon their learning of the couple's intention. Bucyrus Y's Men's club, which contributed clothing, also donated a sum to help with shipping charges.

The couple sail from New York harbor, April 10 and in Denmark each plans to visit brothers and sisters. Upon their return in August they will be guests of the Y's Men's club to tell of their experiences in Europe.

Crowding the Law

THE legal issue of whether or not the disastrous mine shutdown brought about by John L. Lewis can be dealt with under the Taft-Hartley act plainly is uppermost in the mind of the United Mine Workers' chief and his lawyers. Their purpose is to prove they are bigger than the law.

The issue will have to be settled by the courts while the national economy suffers the consequences of a labor monopolist making a steady practice of crowding the law at the expense of the public welfare.

On recommendation of the board of inquiry studying the mine shutdown, the attorney general must appeal for a federal injunction to stop the shutdown. The injunction can be granted at the discretion of the court. Lewis and his lawyers can appeal from the court's decision. Somewhere along the line, the issue of whether or not a "voluntary" refusal to mine coal is subject to the Taft-Hartley act will have to be decided.

Sixty days after the injunction is granted, the NLRB must hold an election on the question of whether or not employes will accept the employer's last offer. In the case of the present coal mine shutdown, there is no employer's offer to be voted on; the shutdown is over a decision on pensions under the existing contract. Again, Lewis and his lawyers will have a chance to crowd the law.

If they succeed, the public has only one recourse—an amendment to the Taft-Hartley act to cover the kind of situation they are exploiting. They make no secret of their intention to defy the Taft-Hartley act at any cost—and the cost promises to be far greater than the country can bear with safety. Their attitude gives congress no choice but to prove that the government is able to withstand all the pressure Lewis and his lawyers can bring to bear and to retaliate with enough additional pressure, if necessary, to control the labor monopoly in the coal industry.

The Bogota Conference

THE importance the United States attaches to the Bogota (Colombia) conference is apparent from the size and caliber of its delegation, headed by Secretary of State Marshall.

The ninth inter-American conference since 1889, it is designed to achieve economic solidarity comparable to the military agreement reached last year at Rio de Janeiro. But there also will be matters of a military nature, including formation of a permanent defense council. It also is probable there will be discussions of the trouble arising from Costa Rica's civil war and Britain's colonial troubles in Latin America and the Falklands.

On economic matters, Latin America feels it is being slighted by United States preoccupation with Europe. Because of years of unfavorable trade balances, our neighbors to the south lack dollars which explains the presence at the conference of John J. McCloy, world bank president. Industrial development and trade across national boundaries in South America have never been commensurate with the continent's varied resources and its immunity from the havoc of two world wars. To remedy these deficiencies, our neighbors hope for a South American "recovery program" to match ERP, although technically Latin America hasn't anything to recover from: it just never developed.

The United States has a large and delicate job at Bogota assuaging slights and imagined slights, helping iron out disagreements and making a fair distribution of Uncle Sam's magic dollar remedy—good for man, beast or ailing nation.

The Hamlet of the U. M. W.

ASIDE from the rightness or wrongness of John L. Lewis' legalistic backing and filling, there is the matter of the prose he uses. Here indeed are the utterances of a frustrated Hamlet. They read like the work of a man much impressed by Shakespeare's majestic cadences and determined to surpass them.

"Without indulging in analysis," says Mr. Lewis, "it is a logical assumption that the caviling of the bar and bench in their attempts to explicate this infamous act will consume a tedious time." Translation: Legal red tape will delay the proceedings.

To evaluate Mr. Lewis' prose in his own idiom: Here is a man who resorts to oratorical furbelows above and beyond the call of duty; who delights in archaisms, dangling participles and wandering subjunctives, who revels in rhetorical inversions, aposiopesis, pleonasms, meiosis and spectacular hyperbole. Translation: Windy old bird, isn't he?

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Television and Some Changes It Will Make.

FOR a year now, we have been looking at a television instrument. Most of the looking is done by the younger members of the family who like fights, wrestling, basketball and the doings of the "small fry." Wherever I want to see something, the set kicks up. Either some doctor's diathermy is at work, or an amateur is experimenting, or planes are overhead. We are always having mechanics about the place who leave fingerprints on the walls and woodwork and get paid for it. Certainly, nothing ought to go wrong so often and yet be in such good condition. It is like the doctor who tells the patient he is in prime shape, but the patient drops dead as he leaves the doctor's office.

SOKOLSKY

The other day, I appeared on video and it was a beastly ordeal because the lights produce too much heat. Also, nobody told me not to slump in my seat, so when I did, the lights made my middle resemble that of Man-Mountain Dean. However, it was a gay experience, particularly as I said precisely what I wanted to say and the audience could see an attempt made to stop me.

I see by the newspapers that David Sarnoff, who runs the Radio Corporation of America and is a very shrewd hombre, having come up the hard way, appraises video almost as revolutionary in political consequences. He said:

"We have but to recall the tremendous effect of radio broadcasting upon the social and political life of the nation to look forward to the profound effect which television is certain to have on domestic habits and politics."

Results of "Voice Culture"

He is so right about that. Radio made it possible for a lunkhead to read a ghost-written speech, after having had some specialist teach him how to modulate his voice in such a manner that it came over the radio entertainingly. For example, Franklin D Roosevelt had a perfect radio voice after he had been taught by experts. He never wrote a speech for himself. There used to be bets over who prepared which paragraph. The script was marked up like a musical score. It came over wonderful.

On the other hand, men like Herbert Hoover or Robert A. Taft do not sound so well on the radio because they have never gone in for voice culture and fancy pauses and suspense and such things. In a word, they speak politics but are not auditioning to become a professional radio announcer who is hired for his voice.

Appearances Will Count

Television will change that, and change it radically. The uninspired face, the fellow with his tongue in his cheek, will be exposed. Sarnoff said:

'He must look into the television camera and speak to the people face to face. His appearance, his smile, his gestures, combined with the sound of his voice to complete the transmission of his personality—and it is that complete personality with which the voter will become acquainted."

For instance, Harry Truman, on television, looks better than he reads, except when he is doing gymnastics on the deck of a battleship. When he does gymnastics, he looks like an old man showing off to his youngest grandchild. But most of the time, he gives the impression of a sincere man, trying to get along. His words are weak and his voice is awful, but he evokes friendship and sympathy. Nobody can teach that. It is in the personality. It is the result of klieg lights on the subconscious.

Why Stars Flicker Out

That is why many movies are spoiled by their stars, they speak of great spiritual purity but their eyes look as though they had taken too many flings. Make-up cannot change that—but when it comes to actors, most people don't care. For as that comic paper, "The New Yorker," once said, in an effort to confound an argument, an actor on the stage is not obligated to mirror his own life, and vice versa.

Anything is superior to the bluffing that radio makes possible. Video will not only change the political picture, but in time many ham commentators will disappear because when the public gets one look at them, it will prefer wrestling. That might save our sanity.

Weakness in Top Bracket

By Walter Lippmann

IT IS not, I think, an alarmist exaggeration to say that the condition of the Truman administration is a grave problem for the nation, not merely for the Democratic party.

The problem is not whether Mr. Truman can be nominated and elected; it is how, in the perilous months immediately ahead, the affairs of the country are to be conducted by a president who has not only lost the support of his party but is not in control of his own administration.

The heart of the danger lies in the fact that Mr. Truman is not performing, and gives no evidence of his ability to perform, the functions of the commander in chief.

LIPPMANN

Yet, in a crisis of peace and war, our constitutional system vests in the president the responsibilities and the power over the great decisions of diplomacy and military strategy. The secretary of state, if he does not have extraordinary powers, cannot do this. For the department of state, as such, has no authority over the armed forces or over the financial and economic agencies of the government.

The cabinet cannot do this; as a body it has no authority of its own. Ours is a presidential system of government, and only the president has the authority to make the decisions which coordinate power and policy, means and ends, in a crisis of war and peace.

The appointment of Gen Marshall was welcomed by the country as the best possible way to compensate for the fact that Mr. Truman does not have the qualifications that are essential in a commander in chief.

There was not only a fine modesty but wisdom in the President's appointment of Gen. Marshall, and it was a fair assumption that Secretary Marshall would not be merely the head of the state department, but in fact, by virtue of his prestige and of Mr. Truman's unlimited confidence in him, a vicarious commander in chief.

The traditional objection to a military man in a high civilian office was dissolved in his case by the belief that the peculiar and critical circumstances called for a man who could conduct foreign policy with unquestioned knowledge of military needs and military risks.

Difficult Assignment

In fact, it has not worked out that way. To have been in effect a vicarious commander in chief was a delicate and difficult assignment, especially for a scrupulous man of high character, used to direct dealing through recognized channels, and devoid of personal ambition for power.

It could have been done only if he had remained continually in Washington in constant personal contact with the president and the other heads of department and the leaders of congress. But for reasons which seemed good, perhaps compelling, Marshall has devoted such a large part of his time and energy to performing the work of a traveling ambassador that he has not had, and does not have, the whole of our foreign relations under his control.

And so, at the very center of the Truman administration, at the critical point where the fateful decisions of the highest diplomatic and military consequences are made, there is a vacuum of authority and responsibility. There is, that is to say, no one who guides, directs, coordinates and disciplines the actions of the government.

The condition at the top is, from the point of view of unity of command, in some ways comparable with that which prevailed in Honolulu and in Washington before Pearl Harbor.

Sign of Disorder

The action of the house of representatives on Spain and the European Recovery Program is perhaps a diplomatic disaster that can be repaired. But it is an ominous portent of the disorder inside the Truman administration. For the action of the house, which will do immeasurable harm to our cause in Italy, France, and all over Europe, was instigated by military men in ruthless disregard of the considered views of the department of state.

This could not have happened if, in a matter of such high policy, Secreary Marshall had been in firm control, and if Secretary of Defense Forrestal had had clear guidance, and had then exercised the discipline which a civilian official is supposed to exercise over the military establishment. But Marshall is in Bogota.

This episode is merely one symptom of a condition within the administration which the country must be enabled to understand if measures are to be taken to correct it.

The Hang-overhead Is Truly Terrific

Hangovers cost the nation a billion dollars a year, according to a survey just completed.

That's really a sobering statistic.

A billion dollars a year . . . to say nothing of the tremendous amount expended for the hair of the dog that bit you.

Yessir, the wages of gin are enormous.

Moreover, the survey found, the average alcoholic costs his employer $550 annually in time loss, not including bail money.

Now that industry is finally getting the facts about the high cost of hangover, I wouldn't be surprised to see a change of policy from No Drinking to No Sobering Up on the Job.

It was Friday, April 1, 1938.

Herbert Hoover, just back from Europe, said the United States should avoid alliance with other democratic nations against fascist powers, and at the same time should be wary lest fascism take root in this country through "planned economy," in an address before the Council of Foreign Relations in New York City.

The new three-story building on West Center street which was to house the Montgomery Ward Co. store was nearing completion with a corps of approximately 60 men working on it.

Mrs. J. Eugene Auld, president-elect of the Marion Lecture-Recital club, Mrs John F. Lacey, Mrs. Glen Penry and Mrs. J. A. Lott were named delegates to the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Music clubs to be held at Cleveland, at a meeting of the club board.

Mrs. Len Thompson, president of the missionary society at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, and Mrs J. A. Carriker, wife of the pastor, headed a delegation of women to the annual conference of the Marion Presbytery at Belle Center.

Forty Hours Devotion opened at St. Mary Catholic church with a high mass celebrated by the pastor, Rev William J Spickerman, followed by a procession with the Most Blessed Sacrament, in which more than 50 acolytes and altar boys took part.

Signor Pajetta's Journey

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

IN THE background of the Trieste incident, a curious figure has now begun to loom up with some importance. Some time prior to the American, British and French proposal to return Trieste to Italy, the Italian Communist deputy, Signor Pajetta, journeyed to Belgrade and Moscow. With Longo and Secchia, Pajetta belongs to the so-called "shadow leadership" of the Italian Communists, much closer to Moscow than the official chiefs, including even Palmiro Togliatti. His mission in Yugoslavia and Russia was to arrange a gesture of Soviet generosity toward Italy.

Since Pajetta went to the headquarters of Marshal Tito, as well as to the Kremlin, it was suspected that this gesture might be a promise to transfer Trieste to an Italy under Communist leadership. The suspicion at least helped to stimulate the American, British and French governments to take immediately the step which the local situation in Trieste had already rendered desirable. And the extremely weak and embarrassed response of the Soviets and Yugoslavs is taken as indicating that the suspicion was correct.

Pajetta Is the Man

Nor is this Signor Pajetta's only significance. If the Soviets still desire to make a gesture toward Italy, they can waive Italian reparations on behalf of themselves and their satellites. They can also send wheat shipments just prior to the voting. On the other hand, they may prefer force to gestures. If the Kremlin's decision is to meet an unfavorable ballot in Italy by precipitating civil war, Signor Pajetta is the man who has carried the orders back to Rome. There is some fear that the orders include the use of force, since Pajetta's partner in the Italian Communist shadow leadership, Luigi Longo, has already menaced Italy with Communist resort to arms.

Meanwhile, it is also worth reporting that Rome, Washington, London and Paris are no longer enveloped in quite the pall of impenetrable gloom which fear of the Italian elections was generating two or three weeks ago. At Rome, Premier Alcide de Gasperi is talking with firm confidence, both to his own people and to foreign observers.

Not long ago, French Foreign Minister George Bidault returned to Paris from a meeting with de Gasperi and the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Sforza, in Italy. Bidault had previously been the most alarmed of all the western leaders and the strongest in pressing for quick action on Trieste. De Gasperi's assurance and mastery of the situation deeply impressed and greatly encouraged him. And Bidault's encouragement, reported in the other capitals by the usual diplomatic round-robin, has had much to do with the more cheerful atmosphere here and in London.

It is also felt that the proposal to return Trieste to the Italians has been even more effective than those who made it dared to hope. Milan, for example, is probably the most completely Communist-controlled of the big Italian cities. Yet soon after the Trieste offer, Communist demonstrators in Milan had to be protected from the angry populace by the Italian police. Again, de Gasperi, who was formerly received in stony silence, has recently been loudly cheered in working class districts. There have also been several significant, though not decisive desertions from the Communist-bought Nenni Socialists, to the independent group headed by Giuseppe Saragat and Ivan Matteo Lombardo.

On Debit Side

Such is the credit side of the ledger. On the debit side, unfortunately, there are also a number of items to be noted. First, the bumbling incompetence of the United States Maritime Commission has wound up the plan to give Italy twenty-nine American ships in such a hopeless tangle of red tape that delivery cannot be promptly effected.

Second, the Communists are continuing their campaign with extraordinary vigor and lack of scruple. In southern Italy, for example, where the Trieste business had less effect than in the North, a new tactic is being used to win over the ignorant peasantry. A Communist, ostentatiously dressed in uniform and wearing an official air, visits a peasant family to ask how much more land, how many more pigs, etc., the family needs. The needs, of course, are generously stated. The Communist takes careful notes, and goes away promising that the pigs, acres and all will be delivered when the Communists are in control at Rome. Third, and last, the likelihood of gestures by Moscow and Belgrade continues to exist, and is perhaps greater than ever.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Alice in Blunderland

"OH look!" cried Uncle Samuel,
Amazement in his eyes;
"I've just discovered planes and guns
And tanks are WAR SUPPLIES! . . .
I'm sending them to Russia at
The basement-bargain price;
Oh, tell me, walrus, do you think
That it is very nice?"

II

"Behold the fleet of Moscow ships
And see the wake they throw
In speeding o'er the ocean for
War parts at prices low!
They load with motors, trucks and parts
That help so much in war;
It's dangerous.. I wish that I
Had thought of that before!"

III

"I rather thought," the walrus said,
"The sight was odd indeed,
For never did I see such ships
Load up with greater speed."
"Me, too" the oyster then exclaimed,
"It's going pretty far,
Oh, never would an oyster help
Equip an oyster bar!"

IV

The tortoise then spoke up and said
"I knew it all along
But I'm so fond of Santa Claus
I couldn't call it wrong.
Of course upon analysis
Such practice wasn't hot;
No turtle ever helped a chef
Obtain a big soup pot!"

V

"Quite right," said Uncle Samuel—
(The Alice of the day)—
"I often wonder why I live
As if 'twas all in play;
I promised little people I'd
Protect them, never fear...
And armed their toughest enemy,
Oh dear! Oh dear! Oh dear!

VI

"Don't cry, my friend," the walrus said
"You'll get your shirt front wet;
"Your actions may be simply due
To sumpin that you 'et';
You had a lot of war supplies
'Come get 'em' was your bid;
You didn't know just what it meant..
It seems that MOSCOW DID!"

VII

"I love those surplus sales," wept Sam,
"How funny they were run!
They didn't have much head or tail,
But they were, oh, such fun!
To see a million dollar's worth
Go for a sawbuck bill
Was in a way depressing yet
The haste was such a thrill!"

VIII

"Ah, why am I so innocent?" continued Samuel.
"I do not know the facts of life
And daisies will not tell;
"But now I feel a little smart;
I'll have a talk with me
And not sell Stalin stuff that he
Can shoot right back at me!"

ODDS AGAINST BUMPER CROP

Farmers Gamble on Eighth Straight Yield of Wheat.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, April 1—Bread belt farmers and those on the great plains to the southwest have their fingers crossed this spring as the new crop growing season begins.

The attitude of these men, who each spring gamble once again on the elements and economics, is "wait and see." Most wheat farmers feel there is little chance of another bumper crop like last year's.

For seven years now they have had bumper crops in the hard wheat country, the heart of which lies in Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle.

The weather and the law of averages are against a repeat performance. Yet there is a touch of optimism in the talk at the crossroads as the countryside begins to green up.

The corn outlook is better but Missouri is about the only state among those of the south central and southwestern group that can be considered much of a corn country.

Improved Conditions

Oats, like wheat, got caught by the weather. Wheat hit a dry spell shortly after planting time last fall and oats ran into a wet spring which kept farmers out of fields for the most part.

The farmer's lot has improved somewhat from the labor, storage and machinery standpoint—enough so that he probably can slip through the growing season and harvest without too much trouble.

The weather, always "X" in the farm equation, has had a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde effect on the crops in these parts. It even went so far as to effect the tomato and onion crops in Texas.

Early tomato plants in east Texas were wiped out by the early March freeze. Rio Grande valley plants were retarded. The onion crop wasn't hit so hard. Texas is the biggest tomato shipping state in the nation and shares the onion producing honors with Colorado.

Northern consumers are just going to have to wait on those tomatoes and onions. The tomato harvest won't start until June 10 or thereabouts and the onion harvest around April 20.

A dry fall got wheat off to a bad start. Swirling dust, fanned across the fields by autumn winds, revived talk of the old dust bowl days of the thirties. Winter stilled that talk by blanketing wheatlands with record snowfalls. But the harvest is bound to be late.

Skeptic on Weeds

Now the wheat is greening up. It's spotty, thin in places and like velvet in others. The one thing wheat men fear now is weeds. with wheat coming out of winter retarded, the weeds may get the jump in the growing season.

But farmers always have been a hopeful lot—like C. A. Crumbaker, who farms some 1,000 acres along the Blue river in central Kansas.

I have one plot of wheat that I was going to plow up for spring oats planting," he says, "but it has greened up so much in the last few days that I believe it will make a good crop."

To the west around Hutchinson, Kan., farmers believe they may produce more wheat than last year. This ordinarily heavy producing area was hard hit last year by the weather. Thousands of acres around there were riddled by hail.

MEMBERS of the Tuesday Study club put aside study programs to entertain with a guest party Tuesday evening at the Federation Home. Mrs. Clarence W. Weber was a guest speaker and music for the program was by Miss Joyce Daum, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Claudine Scranton. Mrs. Edward T. Huber, president of the club, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Weber reviewed Bertita Harding's book, "Age Cannot Wither," and also discussed old and new plays, concluding with a sketch of the comedy "John Loves Mary." Miss Daum sang "My Wild Irish Rose," "Mother Machree," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. T. H. Sutherland, president of the Marion County Federation of Womens Clubs, and Mrs. Huber presided at the table during the social hour. The table centerpiece was an arrangement of white flowers and greenery and lighted tapers in the same colors held in crystal candelabra.

Welcomed as a new member was Mrs. Walter A. Monnette and guests included Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Frank Daum, Mrs. Robert Schroeter, Miss Mary Florence Schuler, Mrs. Clara Fleck, Mrs. J. E. Strausbaugh, Mrs. Thomas Powers, Mrs. L. M. Kraft, Mrs. J. J. Brown, Miss Alice Burgess, Mrs. R. G. Couple To Mark Golden Wedding Anniversary Here

THE golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coleman of 432 Park street, will be observed with a family dinner Sunday, at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willfred Knickel near Prospect.

The celebrants were married April 4, 1898, by Rev. D. B. Martin, pastor of the Baptist church, in the parsonage. Their first home was on North Greenwood street. Until three years ago when Mr. Coleman suffered a stroke, he was an automobile painter.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman have two children, Mrs. Knickel of Prospect and John T. Coleman at home. They have two grandchildren, Phyllis Anne Thomas Coleman and Mary Jo Knickel. Mrs. Coleman has one brother, E. J. Zeller of Marion and Mr. Coleman has one sister, Mrs. J. E. Willis of Clinton, Ill. and two brothers, E. R. Coleman of Montpelier, Ind., and Guy Coleman of Summit street.

Aside from the dinner there will be no celebration of the anniversary.

Weddings

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Dorothy DeWees and Robert E. Breining of Columbus is being made today by the bride's father, Ora DeWeese of 139 Garden street. The wedding took place at 6:45 o'clock Saturday evening, in the North Methodist church in Columbus, with the double ring ceremony read by Rev. C. B. Harrison. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Columbus.

For her wedding Miss DeWees chose a gray print dress with which she wore a black hat and accessories and a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Russell was costumed in a rose dress with navy accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cecil Breining in Columbus. The couple will make their home at 2350 Glenmawer avenue, Columbus.

The bride is employed with the International Business Machine Co. and Mr. Breining is with the Colonial Finance Co. in that city. Mr. Breining served five years with the signal corps of the U. S. Navy.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Miss Nancy Jane Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Zimmerman of 1044 East Church street, has been named to the dean's list for high grade average at Christian College in Columbia, Mo., where she is a junior. Christian College, a junior college for young women, is the oldest women's college west of the Mississippi river, having been founded in 1851. Miss Zimmerman was graduated from Harding High school last June.

GRADUATE NURSE. A former resident of Marion, Miss Helen Janice Berry of Osborn, O., near Dayton, was graduated from the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing at Dayton March 18. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Berry and granddaughter of Frank C. Berry, all of whom formerly resided on Cummin avenue here.

At the present time, Miss Berry has a position on the nursing staff of the Miami Valley hospital. She was graduated from Beaver Creek High school in 1943, and attended Miami university at Oxford, O., before entering nurses training in March, 1945. During her three years in training, Miss Berry was the accompanist for the school glee club, known as the "Florence Nightingale Chorus."

CHURCH CIRCLE HOLDS SPRING MUSICAL TEA

Members of Circle No. 2 of the W.S.C.S. of Epworth Methodist church were joined by guests for a spring musical tea Tuesday afternoon in the chapel rooms at the church. The chapel was decorated with lilies and forsythia and the tea table, arranged in an alcove, was lighted with candles and held an arrangement of forsythia, pussy willows and azalias.

To open the program the leader, Mrs. Roy Kauble, offered prayer. For the musical Mrs. Lester Firstenberger, accompanied by Mrs. E. N. Hale, sang a group of numbers and Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford, vocalist, was heard in several selections. Accompanying Mrs. Rutherford was Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence. For the instrumental part of the program Miss Lawrence and Mrs. Gerald Jennings played several piano solos. During the tea hour the girls' ensemble from Harding High school sang and Robert Wingett, also a student at Harding, played a trumpet solo. The accompanist was Anne Ferguson.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Walter A. Shealy, assisted by Mrs. F. S. Thomas and Mrs. R. C. Alexander and the social committee included Mrs. A. W. Kette, Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mrs. Earl Wittmer, Mrs. R. C. Clevenger and Mrs. W. A. Morecraft.

BORDEN MANAGER HERE PROMOTED

C. F. Lemnitzer To Be Succeeded by A. L. Stiles.

Arthur L. Stiles of the Curtiss apartments on West Church street, has been appointed manager of the Borden Dairy Co. plant here, succeeding Carl F. Lemnitzer of 197 East Washington street.

Mr. Lemnitzer has been promoted to the management of a larger Borden plant and his new assignment will be announced later, a company spokesman said today. His family will remain in Marion pending housing arrangements at his new location. Mr. Lemnitzer has been with the local Borden plant 10 years, seven years of which he was manager.

The new manager, Arthur L. Stiles, is a Marion man, a graduate of Harding High school. He entered Borden's employ at the local plant in 1935 as a retail milk salesman, advancing to route foreman in 1941, ice cream and wholesale milk salesman in 1942, and office manager late in 1942.

Mr. Stiles returns to Marion following 14 months as manager of the Borden ice cream distributing unit at Defiance where he was transferred in January, 1947.

Mrs. Mouser Invited To Washington Dinner

An invitation to attend a breakfast honoring Mrs. Harry S. Truman to be given by the Congressional club of Washington, D. C., on April 14, has been received by Mrs. Grant E. Mouser of 539 East Church street. The breakfast will be held at Hotel Statler in Washington.

Mrs. Mouser is one of the founders of the club which was organized 40 years ago. At that time Mrs. Mouser spent a great deal of time in Washington where Mr. Mouser represented this district in congress.

The Navy announced late yesterday this is the first of three shipments of planes which will be delivered under the Greek-Turkish military aid program. Two other escort carriers will make the ferrying trips from Norfolk in May and June.

The announcement did not say how many planes will be transported.

The carriers will make a ten-day stay in Yesilkoy, an outer port for Istanbul, the Navy said.

Meanwhile four late-model submarines are preparing to leave New London, Conn., for an unnamed Turkish port.

RUNYAN CAMPAIGN SET FOR SATURDAY

Military Order Sponsors Tag Day as Cancer Benefit.

Designation of Saturday, April 3 as the day on which members of Pup Tent No. 27, Military Order of Cooties will sponsor a benefit button sale in the interest of the Damon Runyan Cancer Research Fund, was announced today in a proclamation issued by Mayor Harry L. Dowler.

Members of the Cootiettes, headed by Mrs. Margaret Foreman, president, will be on the street to receive the voluntary contributions. Buttons will be given to the contributors.

Russell McCann, officer of the local tent, is general chairman for the campaign, which will close April 4. Proceeds will go to the National Foundation Fund for Cancer Research sponsored by the Military Order of the Cooties of the United States.

The Damon Runyan drive is separate from the campaign to be opened Monday by the Marion county chapter of the American Cancer society.

METHODIST GROUP HEARS UPPER SANDUSKY PASTOR

The Marion County Methodist Men's Association held a dinner meeting Tuesday night at Wesley Methodist church with about 40 members present, representing six churches in the county. Rev. Cecil Fogle, pastor of the Upper Sandusky Methodist church, was speaker.

D. D. Moyer, president, presided for the meeting, during which plans were discussed for the preaching mission next year.

George Schertzer, who served on the committee to select a site for a Youth Camp for the Lima District, gave a talk on the plans now under way for the camp.

PARTY FOR CHILDREN

A children's party was given by the Child Study club Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. T. Mills on Hill street, with 30 present. Besides the children, one guest was present, Mrs. F. W. Moore of Cleveland. Entertainment included moving pictures, games, and a candy egg hunt. Refreshments were served at tables decorated with miniature yellow ducks which were given to the children as favors. The committee in charge included Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Harold Carroll, Mrs. Ellis Wilson, Mrs. William Stonebraker, Mrs. Richard Eicher, and Mrs. Robert Aeschelman. For the next meeting, Mrs. Donald Schlientz will be hostess in her home on Merchant avenue, with Mrs. Merritt K. Marshall as assistant hostess.

WALK, THINK LITTLE, SAYS "OLDEST MAN"

By The United Press

ISTANBUL—If you want to live to be 140, never have any heavy thoughts and take long walks in the mountains.

The authority for this latest old age prescription is "the oldest man in the world," Saip Oglu Veli, according to the newspaper Vatan. Vatan sent a correspondent to the mountain village of Magancura in Eastern Turkey to interview the man who claims to have passed 140 "several years ago."

"I walk in the mountains eight hours every day," this "Mountain Methuselah" told his interviewers. When asked the secret of his old age and when his young interviewer turned down an invitation to accompany him he said. "I think you must be getting old if you can't walk eight hours."

Veli claims to have lived under six sultans and two presidents in Turkey and to have fought in the Napoelonic war to Nizip against the Egyptians in 1839, in addition to a campaign to lift the siege of Scarpanto in 1853. E. D. Allen, British press atache in Istanbul, who first discovered the grizzled ancient, told press correspondents he was first skeptical of the old man's claims of life but after questioning him about history of the period, believes it true.

"I have only milk and yogurt to eat and only a goat to look after me so if I can find a woman who can take care of me I'll get married again," explained the old man in answer to questions about his two marriages.

"And if you want to be happy in marriage do like I did," the ancient told Vatan. "I got married and took my wife into the mountains for a 15-year-long honeymoon. We were very happy."

"The Bernard Shaw of the mountains," he was dubbed by Allen, who visited Veli while on a trip into eastern Turkish provinces. But Veli was paging Mae West and not Shaw when Vatan's reporter climbed on his motorcycle and said farewell before descending the narrow mountain trail from the village.

"Come back and see me sometime," Veli shouted cheerfully, "I'll be waiting for you."

Scientists estimate that the salt from the oceans, if dried and placed in a pile, would form a mound 4,500,000 cubic miles in size.

Republic Steel's Net Income Nearly Double

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 1—Republic Steel Corporation's net income in 1947 was nearly double that of the previous year, its annual report showed today.

Republic reported a 1947 net income of $31,018,419, compared with $16,033,469 (m) in 1946. Total sales were given as $649,824,006 in 1947 and $415,749,805 in 1946.

The company said its 1947 shipments of 6,073,125 tons broke "all previous records." It listed operations as being "at an average rate of 92.9 per cent of capacity."

LAUSCHE "CRYBABY," SAYS DURBIN REPLY

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., April 1—Francis W. Durbin, Democratic state central committeeman from Allen county called former Gov. Frank J. Lausche a "crybaby" today.

Durbin issued a statement with Mrs. Lena G. Siferd, committeewoman, replying to criticism from Lausche, candidate for the Democratic nominaiton for governor. Durbin and Mrs. Siferd, along with several other committeemen from the seven counties of the fourth and fifth districts, did not attend a recent rally at which Lausche spoke.

The Durbin statement quoted former Governor Lausche as saying, "it hurts to come into a county and find some self-appointed leaders have made phone calls and threatened blacklisting for attendance."

Coal Dwindling Stifles Steel

Supplies Get Less and Less as Miners' Strike Goes On Crippling Industry.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 1—The steel industry counted 38 blast furnaces banked today as the 18-day-old soft coal walkout bit deeper into national production. Another five will be closed within the next few days if the shutdown continues.

The 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers, idle to back up their demand for $100 monthly pensions, today celebrated John L. Lewis day—also known in some areas as Mitchell day, in honor of the sponsor of the eight-hour working day.

Meanwhile, throughout the country more than 30,000 other workers were idle in steel, railroading and other industries closely allied to coal.

Coal-carrying railroads were hard hit. The Chesapeake and Ohio had furloughed 13,400 employes and the Baltimore and Ohio an estimated 6,000.

Other railroads reported these workers laid off: the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 670; the Virginian, 900; the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, 200; and other lines, smaller numbers. The New York Central planned to lay off 725 at its East Buffalo yards and 800 at Cleveland by Saturday.

Coal Strike Causing 800 Layoffs by N.Y.C.

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, April 1—The New York Central railway will lay off 800 of 1,050 employes at the Cleveland Collinwood locomotive and car shops Saturday night because of the coal strike.

The layoff was termed a "reduction in force" by railway officials, but leaves only a skeleton crew in the shops. Samuel D. Foster, superintendent of the shops, said the furlough would last indefinitely.

Layoffs in Bucyrus, Coal Shortage Acute

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 1—Coal stocks have dwindled to less than 30 tons in any of the city's coal yards, and layoffs of railroad workers have already started as a result of the coal miners' strike which started its third week today.

More than 40 New York Central rail workers, including five firemen, 25 brakemen and 11 telegraphers have been laid off and a railroad spokesman said the number would be doubled by April 5 unless the strike is settled.

Sounds Great! But Don't Forget It's April 1

Let's not be taken in on that old trick....you know that fat pocketbook on the street is full of old newspapers, either that or it has a string tied to it. And what about that fortune an unknown uncle left you? Humph! That's crazy, I don't have an unknown uncle, not an unknown uncle that I know about.

Who are you trying to kid? Kid!

No school today!

I'm too smart to go for that, my snickering school chum.

had made a desperate but futile effort to break the tie.

"I walked into the center of the field and tossed a silver dollar. High up in a broadcasting booth a radio announcer told his thousands of listeners, 'Blake now is tossing a coin to decide whether Notre Dame scored.'

"Actually the game was over, still a tie, and I merely was tossing a coin to determine which of the opposing captains got the ball as a souvenir.

Lauds Athletic Spirit

In his closing remarks Mr. Blake paid deep tribute to the fine feeling and sportsmanship that marks amateur athletics.

"If we carried more of this spirit into every day life, there would be less strife between nations and fewer disputes between individuals."

The audience last night was composed of the management group of Marion industrials and the men from the shops who keep the wheels of production turning.

Presiding was Robert J. LaMarche, chairman of the Manufacturers council. Mr. LaMarche explained the function of the council and told how it operated during the war years to handle special problems of turning out materials for the armed forces.

Mr. LaMarche introduced Jack Bray as toastmaster. After a tribute to men in the audience "who keep the wheels turning" Mr. Bray presented David Pollak, a personal friend of Mr. Blake, who introduced the speaker.

Music for the dinner was provided by Mrs. Goldie Swope and Mrs. Jane Coffey, accordionists and pianists. The dinner was served by the women of the Eastern Star. John Lacey led group singing.

Brooklynites Boo Wallace, Hoot Russia

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 1—An estimated 500 demonstrators, shouting "down with Russia! Down with Communism!" booed Henry A. Wallace last night as the third party presidential candiate carried his campaign into Brooklyn.

Bearing U. S. flags and the banners of several veterans organizations, the demonstrators marched in an endless column around a school in Brooklyn's red hood section where the former vice president spoke.

The third party leader, outwardly unruffled by the demonstration, said in his address that U. S. foreign policy is "breeding civil war for Italy."

Motorists Warned Not To Use 1947 Car Tags

Chief William E. Marks today advised all Marion motorists to have 1948 license plates installed or keep their cars off the streets. Even parked cars bearing 1947 plates will be tagged and their owners placed under arrest for failure to have the new plates, the chief said this morning. An intensive patrol of highways outside the city is being made by highway patrolmen checking for expired plates.

The auto license bureau at 131 North State street was still serving a capacity crowd of license seekers this morning as Deputy Registrar Walter C. Bailey reported the sale of 427 passenger car, 83 truck, 17 farm truck, and 34 trailer license plates yesterday to bring passenger car license sales to a total of 7,125 from the beginning of sales March 1 until the 5 p. m. deadline last night. Total sales of truck, motorcycle, and trailer plates have not as yet been computed by the bureau.

ITU Advises Printers To Seek Contracts

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 1—The International Typographical union today ordered its striking locals to start new negotiations for contracts.

In a bulletin labeled "instructions and advice," ITU headquarters warned that strikers' benefits would be withdrawn from locals failing to comply.

The bulletin announced ITU will "fully comply" with an injunction granted the government in Federal district court here last Saturday.

In that decree, Judge Luther M. Swygert forbade ITU officers to carry out the union's "conditions of employment" bargaining policy. Specifically, it prohibited discrimination against non-union printers.

TRUMAN CUTS DEFENSE FUND

Sees Actuality of Peace Promotion in Halving Emergency Request.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 1—President Truman has put a top limit of around $3,000,000,000 on the extra money the armed forces can ask right now for preparedness, a ranking official said today.

This man, who asked not to be identified by name, said the President based his decision to halve the military's own request on the assumption that war is not inevitable and in any event will not break out soon.

He said the President told the chiefs of the armed forces in laying down the top figure that he wants "a peace program, not a war program."

Earlier, White House officials had forecast a top of about $4,000,000,000. The possibility remains that items not of a direct military nature may be added.

Peace Assurance Seen

One such proposal is the building of new merchant vessels which could be converted into troopships. But even if a ship program is adopted, the official said, it will not be near the $1,500,000,000 size mentioned in some preparedness discussions.

The official said the President took the position that:

1. The new program—stressing an increase in trained men through the draft and universal military training—would help assure peace by showing Russia that the United States is capable of acting to stop communist aggression.

2. It also would be within the spending limits that Mr. Truman thinks the nation can bear without the threat of sharp inflation and full-scale wartime curbs—rationing, price ceilings and manpower controls.

TRAINING POLL WORKERS

NO ALARM VOICED BY COAL DEALERS HERE

Survey Indicates Supply OK for Current Demand.

Coal, like gold, is where you find it, a survey of 14 of the city's 20 coal yards revealed today. The only fact which was common to replies of the 14 coal dealers questioned was the almost general lack of demand by customers at this time. The inquiry was made following news dispatches which reported that some cities' coal yards were running low.

Four dealers reported only one to four days' supply on hand while other dealers estimated supplies running from a full car on hand up to better than a month's supply.

Only one dealer reported unlimited supplies of coal available saying that he could get all he wanted and had turned down delivery of a full railroad car and several truck loads today.

Most dealers believed that supplies on hand would be adequate to normal demand. Even if a cold snap should set in for a short time, some dealers believed they could accommodate all of their customers. The general coal picture in Marion was one of sufficient stocks to meet any normal demand for at least the month of April.

PLEASANT TWP. GROUPS HOLD ANNUAL FISH FRY

Members of the Pleasant Township Farm Shop group were joined by the Pleasant Homemakers club for the annual fish fry Monday night at the school. Community singing was led by Harold Patrick with Dallas Cornet as the accompanist, and a welcome was extended to the Homemakers by Mr. Corbeth, vocational agricultural instructor. The response was by Miss Edith Crusman, home economics instructor.

Polly and Myra Faith entertained with vocal numbers and Dr. and Mrs. Walter D. McClaskey presented a sketch. A debate, "Resolved, that the calendar should have 13 months instead of 12," was presented by Mrs. E. Williams and Mrs. Philip Daugherty, affirmative, and Daniel Mautz and Gordon Eichorn, negative.

A business session was held by the Farm Shop group and the following officers elected: Ralph Williams, president, Ed Harrold, vice president and Ed Reister, secretary-treasurer.

Each member of congress is entitled, on request, to as many as three plants from the National Botanic Gardens.

HE BOUGHT A TOWN. "Uncle Gus" Barbush, who as a Greek immigrant got his start by washing dishes, has just purchased a community of 3,000 to rescue it from a "ghost town" fate. Gus bought the town of Langeloth, Pa., for a reported several hundred thousand dollars. A resident of nearby Burgettstown, Gus said he learned that things were looking pretty dark for Langeloth after the American Zinc and Chemical Co., decided to close its plant there and put 800 people out of work.

BOWLING RESULTS

W. P. Applegett of the Water Heaters' team in the O.P.S. league took all honors Monday night in Palace bowling, getting both first and second high single scores on games of 256 and 222 and totaling 630 for high in three. He rolled 150 for his third single score. Ruth Burke shot 171 for high single in the same league for the women, and Edna Miller of Irons rolled 395 for high in three games.

Dorothy Rhinehart was chief pin toppler in the Monday Nite Ladies league with a series score of 528. She had games of 190-179-159. Ten other ladies had scores over 450 in series competition. C. Applegett fired 192 for tops in single play. Forty-five of the ladies, all told, broke 150 in single games.

RAIL UNIONS' BOARD JUGGLING WAGE DATA

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, April 1—Three railroad brotherhoods involved in a wage-rule dispute with the nation's rail carriers will come to a decision either Monday or Tuesday in Cleveland on a presidential emergency board recommendation of a 15½-cent pay raise.

Whitley Johnston, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, said yesterday in Cleveland the final decision would be made at the meeting of the unions' general chairmen which opens Monday.

Wage committees of the BLE, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America were slated to meet again today to consider the government proposals and to draft recommendation to present to the general chairmen.

Rejection of the offer might result in a nationwide railroad tieup after April 26.

Firm Starting Here Develops New Machine for Coal Mining

A firm originating in Marion 17 years ago is participating in a $250,000 program to design a machine to mine coal cheaper and faster, according to an Associated Press report today from Pittsburgh.

The firm is the Joy Manufacturing Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., which originated here in 1931 for the design and development of coal mining machinery.

It was formed here by J. F. and D. E. Joy and successfully operated until 1934 when a Chicago firm, the Sullivan Machinery Co. bought out the company for $76,000.

The firm attracted attention of the mining industry to Marion on several occasions, particularly in 1933 when the Joy Brothers coal saw was acclaimed at the annual convention of the coal mining industry as "one of the greatest contributions to the coal industry."

General engineering and sales offices were maintained in the Citizens building at West Center and Prospect streets. The Kelly Foundry and Machine Works in Mt. Gilead manufactured the company products.

Latest development of the company which still retains the name of its founders is a "continuous mining machine," the report stated. The company has two of these machines in the testing stage but does not expect to place either on the market until later in the year.

The development program in which the firm is taking part is being sponsored by the Bureau of Coal research with seven of the nations leading coal companies and railroads as backers.

Evangelist's Topic Listed for Tonight

For the evangelistic service at the Marahatha Bible church tonight, Rev. Tom Presnell, evangelist, will preach on "Changing Faces." A vocal solo by Rev. David E. Weinzierl of the Christian and Missionary Alliance congregation will be "Love of God," and Richard Blair will play an electric Hawaiian guitar number, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." Wednesday night the second service of the campaign drew increased interest and attendance, Rev. Earl L. Holliday of the Maranatha church reported. The evangelist's subject was Christian life can never be fuller than a person's assurance of salvation based on the promises of God's word."

A QUESTION RAISED

By The United Press

NEWARK — Erwin B. Hock, state alcoholic beverage control commissioner, ruled that Easter eggnog must be sold straight in New Jersey and not in edible chocolate bunnies. "Is the tavern keepers' eggnog so unpalatable that it must be sugar coated?" he asked.

Tanning leather with vegetable oils was introduced into this country by the Pilgrims.

SOLON'S BILL ASKS UN STRENGTHENING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 1—Rep. Raymond Burke (R-Ohio) proposed immediate strengthening of the United Nations with an international peace force to back up UN orders to keep the peace.

The Ohioan has introduced legislation, similar to about a dozen other bills in the house and senate, to put teeth in the UN charter.

Burke's bill would "integrate" such a step with the European recovery program.

It calls for proceeding with or without Russia, although it does not name the Soviet, specifically.

The bill does state that in event any present member of the United Nations vetoes the program, it shall go ahead anyway, leaving the objecting country on the sideline.

The bill recognizes "existing defects" in the UN charter and calls for their correction so that the organization can fulfill its mission as "the principal and most effective instrument for world peace."

It states that a stronger United Nations is necessary to "remove the atomic cloud now hanging over the world," to relieve the load of "the armament race now going on," and to avert another World war.

It declares that the "suspicion and fear now driving the world into opposite military camps" should be replaced by "mutual confidence in a United Nations strong enough to guarantee any member nation . . . against armed violence by any other nation."

Burke told a reporter today that the United States alone cannot carry the ball for world peace. "All nations must participate and bear their share," he asserted.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Reasons for Tonsillectomy

These days operation to remove the tonsils is much less common than it was even ten years ago. There was a time when removal of the tonsils was considered almost a cure-all for the ailments of childhood. Nowadays the operation is undertaken only when some definite condition in the tonsils seems to be actively endangering the child's health.

The principal justification for removing the tonsils in either adults or children is recurrent attacks of infection. If a child of five years or older has three attacks of acute tonsillitis in a year many physicians think the tonsils should be taken out.

The operation should also be done if an abscess has formed in the tissues around the tonsils, because, once this has happened, it is likely to occur again unless the tonsils are removed. Furthermore, the occurrence of such abscesses means that there is infection deep in the tonsils.

Enlargement of the tonsils as well as the adenoids may block the breathing passages. When such blocking occurs, in a child under five years of age removal of the adenoids alone often is sufficient to permit normal breathing through the nose. Thus today there is less tendency to remove the tonsils just because it has been decided that the adenoids should be taken out.

It is not thought to be good policy to remove the tonsils in an effort to prevent colds, because the operation does not help in many such cases.

In the neck there are glands known as lymph glands. When the tonsils are infected, these glands enlarge. If such enlargements remain over a long period of time, removal of the tonsils is probably advisable.

Still another reason for removing tonsils is deafness due to blocking of the tube which connects the throat with the middle ear. Of course, the adenoids as well should be removed in such cases.

Sometimes removal of the tonsils is suggested in cases of asthma or nasal allergy when there is a continuous mucous discharge from the nose. However, the operation is seldom of much benefit in these cases, and has been thought to aggravate the asthma in some instances.

Removal of the tonsils may also be considered in chronic arthritis and in kidney inflammations. Of course, the physician will have to decide in such cases whether or not there is a likelihood that the tonsils are acting as a focus of infection for such germs, and their poisons are passed into the blood and carried to other parts of the body. If he believes this is the case, then operation on the tonsils will probably be of benefit.

Questions and Answers

A Reader: I have large black spots which appear on my chin. These last from two to ten days. What causes them?

Answer: It is impossible to tell the cause of this condition without an examination. It is advisable that you consult a skin specialist. Skin disorders may come from such things as infections, sensitivity to chemicals with which the skin comes in contact, nervous disorders and other causes.

Global Scene

By DeWitt Mackenzie

CONSIDERABLE surprise and regret certainly don't want to lose out from a great deal of adverse criticism seem to have been created both at home and abroad by the action of the U. S. house of representatives in voting tentatively to admit Spain into the Marshall plan program for western Europe.

We can understand the reaction in view of Generalissimo Franco's widespread reputation of being the bad boy of western Europe. So strong has been the feeling that the 16 nations involved in the Marshall plan don't want Spain to join in the rehabilitation program. Furthermore the United Nations not so long ago registered disapproval of the Franco government, and the Washington state department has a black mark against that regime.

Still, this country hasn't been ruffled by the house action. I'm against dictatorship wherever it be in Madrid or Moscow or any of the other capitals which have totalitarian governments, but I'll tell you something:

If my house is burning and Generalissimo Franco comes along and offers to help extinguish the fire, I'm not going to retort, "Get thee gone, thou Fascist!" I'm going to say "Sure, Francisco, come on." And if that is wrong ethically, it still is horse sense.

MACKENZIE

Apropos of this thesis one recalls the British Prime Minister Churchill's friendly references to Spain in an important war-time foreign policy speech in the house of commons on May 24, 1944. He dwelt on how Madrid kept out of the war, although in 1940 "it seemed certain that Spain would join Germany." He added that he looked forward to increasing good relations with Madrid and to "an extremely fertile trade between Spain and this country" during the war and after the peace.

CHURCHILL CLEARLY wasn't condoning the sins of the Franco regime. He was taking a realistic view of the situation. It's one thing to condemn the totalitarian government of Spain, and another to try to eliminate that important country from the economic structure of western Europe.

Indeed that fact is tacitly recognized generally by Spain's neighbors, since Britain and numerous other western European countries have trade agreements with Madrid. Spain has many resources which are highly important to European recovery, and her sister nations obviously feel that it is better to do business with her and hope that political reform will come in due course.

HOWEVER, EVEN IF you wash out the economic value of Spain to the Marshall plan, there still remains the fact that militarily she is a vital base for the defense of western Europe. She lies up against the narrow strait of Gibraltar, which is the entrance to the Mediterranean. The military authorities of the western democracy who doesn't want to see a democratic government in Madrid. However, we must recognize that the most active pressure for a new government is coming from monarchists.

Establishment of a Red regime in Madrid would give Russia the best one asset for consolidation of its drive to communize all Europe.

ROOSTER HAS HORNS

By The United Press

ISTANBUL—Mahmet Tuzey, an Anatolian farmer, has a rooster named Moskof which he has refused to sell for 500 Turkish lira ($200). Tuzey thinks Moskof should earn a living for him as a sideshow attraction. Nature equipped the gray rooster's head with three-inch horns growing in curling fashion which makes it look like a ram's head.

GAME LAW DISCUSSION SCHEDULED AT MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Marion County Conservation committee Tuesday night, April 6, at 8 o'clock in the Eagles hall on West Center street, O. H. Niemeyer, county game protector, announced today. There will be election of officers, and a farmer and a sportsman will be named to represent Marion county at the game law hearing, to be held in Columbus on May 24, when the game laws for 1948 and 1949 will be discussed.

Mr. Niemeyer says this is a very important meeting and is open to anyone interested in wildlife. There are no dues or collections and the purpose is to give all in attendance a chance to say what they want in the game laws.

Every farm organization is urged to have representatives present.

COUNTY HAS TIE SCORE IN MARRIAGES, DIVORCES

Marion county marriages and divorces wound up all even for the month of March, according to records in probate and common pleas courts. While 93 couples were issued marriage licenses in probate court a like number of couples were granted divorces in common pleas court.

Records in the office of Calvin Odell, clerk of courts, show 97 suits for divorce were filed during the month with 27 suits coming on for hearing, of which four were dismissed. Of the 23 granted, 18 were to wives and five to husbands. Seven children were awarded to mothers and seven to fathers. Eight names were changed by the divorce actions.

Former Marion Man Invents Device To Speed Foundry Work

Inventor D. E. Mason, former Marionite shown above with his commercial flame-thrower," a coke igniter, said to be a solution to one of the old problems in foundries.

* * *

A former Marionite, now general manage of an iron works in North Carolina has attracted attention of foundrymen with the invention of a piece of equipment called a coke igniter offered as a solution to one of the foundryman's long time problems.

He is D. E. Mason, resident of Marion from 1913 to 1915 and from 1932 to 1934. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence V. Mason, formerly lived in Marion for a number of years, owning a home on Indiana avenue. Mason attended Forest Lawn school.

The invention resulted from his work at Greensboro Iron Works as a foundryman. He became intrigued with the idea that there should be a more efficient and economical way to ignite coke than standard practices.

Standard Practice Slow

Coke is used in foundry furnaces to heat pig iron to temperatures desirable for moulding. Standard practices ignite the coke either by a wood fire, fuel oil, or natural gas with considerable time required to properly ignite the coke.

Mason set out to develop a new type of coke lighter.

"After about 30 days of thinking about nothing else, I turned out an instrument which has proved to be superior to all previous methods of igniting coke in the cupola," he said.

The igniter consists of a cast iron gun grounded to a welding machine or transformer with one end of the gun buried in the coke bed at the bottom of the furnace. An electrode passed through the gun to make contact with the coke at the muzzle end, arcs continuously emitting intense heat which is spread through the coke by an air blast forced through the igniter.

Points To Advantages

Advantages of the gun, Mason points out are that the coke is thoroughly ignited at a cost of but a few cents a day with a saving of about $100 a month over standard practices in a furnace used daily. Also of value is the savings in time used to ignite, the inventor pointed out.

"Only five minutes or less are necessary to set a large area of the coke burning from the intense heat created by the igniter," he said.

Application for a patent on the igniter has been accepted, according to Mason who is now pondering whether to manufacture his invention or let a contract to someone else.

In 1947, the United States had about four times more money in circulation than before World War II.

IN EXPORT EXPOSE—Senate small business subcommittee's inquiry into possible shipment abroad of scarce goods on forged export licenses was snagged when mysterious "James Maguire" named as permit dealer by John A. Quinn (above, failed to appear as witness. Quinn claims "Maguire" issued licenses for which New York Exporter Harry Levey testified he paid Quinn $28,000.

"Save-the-Children" Clothing Drive Set at Harding High

A Save-the-Children "Bundle Day" drive to collect serviceable, used clothing will be launched at Harding High school April 6 through April 8, Albert C. May, principal, announced today.

The drive is part of the Seventh National Children's Clothing crusade conducted under the auspices of a national committee of school superintendents. Clothing obtained will be distributed by the Save the Children Federation in its program of assistance to children in isolated rural areas of the United States, it was explained.

Goal Set for Year

Two and a half million pounds of wearable clothing has been set as the national goal for 1948. Last year, in the Sixth National Children's Clothing crusade, three million pupils took part in 1,025 bundle days in some 40 states and collected a total of 1,700,000 pounds. The goal has been increased this year in order to enable the Federation to meet the clothing needs in its steadily expanding fields of child service.

In America, clothing is distributed in needy rural areas of eight southern and southwestern states in which the Federation operates its sponsored school program. Many of the children in the American areas served come from families with cash incomes of less than $400 a year. If it were not for the Bundle day collections, many of these children would not be able to attend school during inclement weather because of lack of proper clothing, it was stated.

Needs Listed

Mr. May said wearable clothing of all types, in babies' children's and adult sizes, blankets, sheets, and other bedding, and pairs of outgrown shoes are needed. He asked that clothing contributed be clean, and tears or weak spots mended if possible.

A large number of shipping bags have been ordered from the Federation, and leaflets will be given to students of Harding to take home during the week, stating the purpose of the drive and asking the cooperation of parents.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

NO one ever has questioned the bravery of Georges, fugitive king of Trees, but there was something more than valor in his face and eyes as he sprang to his feet the instant my husband had released him, and rushed at the man who had humiliated him so surely.

There was fury, of course in his face, so much of it and so venomous that I had all I could do not to spring from my hiding-place behind the door which Dicky had bidden me to take, and rush to my husband's aid.

But from somewhere deep within me my common sense reached out a restraining hand and kept me in my place. Dicky never would forgive me, I knew, should I make such a senseless ridiculous gesture.

My sober second thought had reminded me of something else also. Dicky has mastered many unusual tricks of boxing and wrestling, both American and Oriental, which make him more than a match for most younger men, and I was not surprised to see him deftly sidestep George's rush, and then, so swiftly that I could not see just what he was doing, he was holding Georges firmly at arms' length, while the fugitive king, patently too proud to kick or struggle against a grip which he was athlete enough to know could not be broken, glared at Dicky not only with valor and fury unabated, but with something else in his face which not only intrigued me as I saw it did Dicky, but which began treacherously to tug at the sympathetic impulses deep within my soul against which Dicky had so summarily warned me.

For there was not only genuine shocked incredulity in the face of the fugitive king of Trees, but his fury was infused with horror, as if, I told myself, a pit had opened before him, and something indescribably awful had leaped at him.

"You need not hold me," he said in monotonous tones of utter weariness and defeat. "I shall not attempt to strike you again, although never until my last breath shall I forget or forgive the humiliation you just have given me. But, I wish to sit down, and I wish you to listen to me. You have misunderstood me completely, and, for the sake of your niece Mrs. Veritzen, you should hear me out."

I have conjugated Dicky moods and tenses for so many years that I can tell fairly well what his reactions will be to any situation. I saw now that he not only was at intrigued and as impressed as I was at what he saw in George's face, but that he was a bit ashamed of the almost maniacal rage with which he had shaken the royal playboy and tossed him back into his chair with threats of beatings and small boy spankings, if he ever dared mention Mary's name again. And I knew that Georges' formal use of "Mrs. Veritzen" in speaking of Mary, also had impressed him, as did the changed attitude of the man facing him.

For there was no trace of the playboy in Georges now. Instead, the cliche "every inch a king," was the only phrase to describe him, as he stood erect with Dicky's gripping hands upon his shoulders, and his eyes filled with unfathomable emotions.

Dicky took his hands from the fugitive king's shoulders at once.

"Sit down," he said, "and talk. I shall listen carefully. If you have anything to say which can explain—or mitigate — the wholly incredible farrago to which you just have given utterance, I promptly shall ask your pardon for having manhandled you. But you must know that my niece, Mrs. Veritzen, is almost as dear to me as my own little daughter."

He paused and looked at the younger man steadily.

"If you ever have a daughter," he said, "and a man speaks of her in the ridiculous rigamarole you just used, you will understand my rage. But I must put one qestion before I listen to you. Do I understand that, while you were formally requesting the princess Olina to marry you, and permitting the arrangements for the camouflaged wedding out here to be started, you were in love, or fancied yourself to be, with my niece, Mrs. Noel Veritzen?"

SUBURBAN BAPTISTS IN CHRIST CRUSADE

Program at Grand Prairie and Morral Churches Begins.

Morral and Grand Prairie Baptist churches have completed plans for a 10-day Crusade for Christ in Evangelsim, beginning Friday, it was announced today. This will be part of a church-wide movement which is being carried on this year. The "crusader" who will direct the special effort at the Morral church is Rev. Clayton A. Pepper of Granville, director of town and country work for the Ohio Baptist convention. Rev. C. R. Albin, pastor of the two churches, stated. The Morral church will take part in an evangelistic rally at Trinity Baptist church in Marion April 5 and will hold public evangelistic services April 7, 9 and 11.

At the Grand Prairie church, the campaign will begin with a youth rally at 8 p. m. Friday. The special youth phase of the effort will continue through April 4, then the adult congregation will take up the "crusade." Dr. J. Gordon Hynes, director of Christian education and evangelism for the Michigan Baptist convention, will be the Grand Prairie worker. The Grand Prairie church will take part in the rally in Marion and will conduct public evangelistic sevices on the same dates as the Morral church. Both special workers have done outstanding denominational activities and interdenominational work, and have had wide experience as pastors, educators and rural and youth workers.

ST. PAUL EPISCOPAL CHURCH BOARD MEETS

A meeting of the executive board preceded the general meeting of the Women of St. Paul's Episcopal church Tuesday at the parish house. Speaker for the general meeting was Rev. Eldred Johnston, pastor of the Central Christian church, who spoke on "World Cooperation."

Mrs. T. H. McKenney announced that the united thank-offering boxes were due in May and Mrs. Grant E. Mouser Jr., reported on the supply work done by the group and announced that boxes had been forwarded to missions in South Dakota and the Philippine Islands. Rev. Frederick W. Leech, rector, spoke on the spring conference to be held at Gambier and asked that delegates be named to represent the local church.

Mrs. Paul Menzer presided. Rev. Johnston recommended two books, "Christianity Takes a Stand" and "The Church Looks Forward," and in his talk stated the world should be a place where people are free from exploitation and free to choose the kind of a government they wanted. He presented the question, "Should the Church be concerned with a political problem?"

Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz announced the opening of the annual campaign of the Marion County chapter of the American Cancer society April 5, when Dr. William C. Myers of Ohio State university, Columbus, will be the guest speaker. The executive board meeting was followed by corporate communion. A luncheon preceded the general meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert T. Mason, Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. Clifford B. Sioli.

CRUSADE IN WYANDOT

NEVADA—Meetings will begin at the Baptist church at Wyandot April 4 when all the churches will follow the "Crusade for Christ." There will be special speakers and at Wyandot, Rev. Ward Hibbs of Parkersburg, W. Va., a director of town and country work in the state, will the speaker.

FIRE CAUSES MAJOR TRAFFIC JAM. A relatively small fire in the six-story Crawford House (right background) caused this jam of fire equipment, spectators and traffic in the Scollay Square section of downtown Boston. Four persons were rescued by ladders from upper floors of the 75-room hotel.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Three guests were present when the Unity Bible class of Wesley Methodist church was entertained Tuesday night in the church parlors. Bible study was in charge of Mrs. Fred Upton, the teacher, prayer was by Mrs. Wilson Massie, and for a program, a reading was by Mrs. Foster Latimore, and poem by Mrs. Joseph Barkley. A contest on Bible characters was won by Mrs. Upton and Mrs. Massie, a guessing contest by Mrs. L. E. Reardon, and a guessing box award went to Mrs. Blanche Durham. Refreshments were served by Mrs. M. R. Stevens, Mrs. Carl Vermilion, Mrs. F. A. Throckmorton, Mrs. Fay Hughes, Mrs. R. E. Davis and Mrs. Jerry Clunk. The guests were Mrs. Martha VanOstram of Sterling, O., Mrs. Phoebe Crist of Upper Sandusky, and Mrs. Mary Wiedemaire of Marion.

HAVE EVENTFUL TRIP AFTER CONTEST VICTORY

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, April 1—Last Thursday, Miss Arline Davis of Ashley winner of the "Week End at the Waldorf" contest over several contestants from schools of seven counties left Marion. She arrived in New York City Friday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. H. W. Davis and Radio Station WMRN's official hostess and education editor Miss Betty Steinman.

During the morning, they toured ABC Studios in Rockefeller Center and lunched at an English grill at Rockefeller Plaza in Radio City. They saw two films "Rockettes" and "I Remember Mama." Dinner was enjoyed in the "Sert" room of the Waldorf-Astoria after which they saw the play, "Finian's Rainbow." On Saturday morning, they shopped, viewed the Empire State building and the library and had lunch at Sardi's. In the afternoon, they saw the opera "Manon" at the Metropolitan Opera house.

Following a trip through Chinatown, dinner was served in Chinese style and they then went to the Copacabana. On Sunday morning after breakfast they attended Christ Methodist church and heard Dr. Ralph W. Sockman. They participated later in the Easter parade and saw a broadcast of "Music America Loves Best" with Robert Merrill. Returning, the party toured the Waldorf-Astoria.

CLUES FEW IN 2 STAB DEATHS

Sadistic Duo of Knife Slayings of Columbus Women Baffle Police.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—Authorities were virtually without clues today in the sadistic knife-slayings of two women found dead late yesterday.

One victim, about 40, still was unidentified. She was found nearly nude in a bed at the downtown Ohio hotel. Stabbed 20 times with a pocket-knife, she had been dead for about 12 hours, Coroner Mitchell Spyker said.

The body of Mrs. Marcella Smilack, 51-year-old mother of four, was discovered a few hours later in the basement of her south side home. Coroner Spyker said she was raped by an assailant who slashed her throat with a 12-inch bread knife.

Tattoo marks gave police their lead towards identifying the hotel victim. She had "Dodge City, Kans." tattooed on her right forearms and the names, "Jimmy Quirt" and "Hank Quirt" on her thighs. The postal guide does not list a Dodge City, Kans.

Give Fictitious Address

C. L. Brown, owner-manager of the hotel said she registered Monday night with a "sporty-dressed man of about 40." He said they registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Carr," with an address "1784 Zanesville." There is no such address in Columbus.

Brown discovered the body after hotel employes failed to hear from the couple. He opened the door with a passkey and at first thought the room was empty.

"Then I noticed a bare foot sticking out from under the cover," he said. "I walked over to the bed, shook the foot, and then pulled down the cover. The woman looked dead, so I called police."

Husband An Executive

The woman, about five feet five inches and 130 pounds, was unclad except for a slip.

"Carr," was described as about five feet nine inches, 165 pounds, dark haired, and of light complexion. He was wearing a checkered two-tone sportcoat.

Mrs. Smilack's husband Herman is co-owner of the Randolph Iron & Metal Co. Smilack found his wife's body at the foot of the basement stairs upon returning from work. Blood smears led from the kitchen sink to the stairs, indicating she had been dragged to the basement. A blood-stained bread knife was in the kitchen.

Mrs. Smilack had been home alone all day. Neighbors saw her working in coveralls in the front yard during the morning. When found, the body was clad in a blue dress.

Mrs. Smilack's left forearm and left chest were gashed.

WALLACE IN OHIO COLUMN IN DOUBT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—Preliminary attempts to qualify Henry Wallace's third party on the Ohio November ballot were on file both here and at Springfield today.

Doubt remained the Wallace party would be qualified despite these formalities.

The Ohio Wallace for President committee filed a loyalty affidavit with the secretary of state, in a move seeking to qualify as a minority party. But this was defective because the document failed to state the group had no connections with a foreign government.

Leland S. Dougan, assistant to Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel, said the affidavit filed here complied in part by stating the third party groups was not subversive; did not advocate overthrow of local, state and national governments by force or violence directly or indirectly, and carried on no program of sedition or treason by radio, speech or press.

Dougan also said it was unnecessary for the committee to file at Springfield because the law held affidavits need only be turned over to the secretary of state.

FORD EXECUTIVE DIES

By The Associated Press

BAY CITY, Mich., April 1—Russell H. McCarroll, 58, director of chemical engineering and chemical and metallurgical research for the Ford Motor Co. and associated with the company since 1915, died here last night.

APRIL FIRST

Is just another day for your savings to earn 2%

While it is observed by most of us as April Fool's Day—there is no foolishness about that two per cent current earnings. And, incidentally, all savings deposited before April 10th share in the earnings from the 1st. This is true of each month of the year, so start the 2nd quarter of 1948 with bigger and better savings.

Marion Woman Jailed On Delinquency Charge

Mrs. Mary Ellen L. Smith, 20, of 466 North Grand avenue is being held in Marion county jail pending hearing April 9 in juvenile court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl and a 17-year-old boy. Mrs. Smith entered a plea of not guilty to the charges before Judge Edward J. Ruzzo this morning and was remanded to jail after being unable to furnish bond set by the court at $500.

Accompanying her to jail was Samuel House, 19, of East Mark street who pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of the 15-year-old girl. Judge Ruzzo fined him $100 and costs and ordered him to jail until the fine was paid.

Mrs. Smith was picked up by police on West Center street last night on a warrant issued by the juvenile court. House also was apprehended last night at a different location on a similar warrant. Affidavits were filed by Justin Cornelly, police juvenile officer.

The two juveniles in question are being held at the detention home pending disposition of their cases.

NUPTIALS AT OCEOLA

BUCYRUS — Miss Joan Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hart of route 3, became the bride of Archie Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, route 4, in a ceremony performed in the parsonage of Oceola E.U.B. church Tuesday night.

The nuptials took place in the same parsonage where the bridegroom's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murphy, exchanged vows 43 years ago.

The Rev. Clayton Strawser officiated at the double ring service.

Attendants were the bride's sister, Irene, and brother, Jack.

The couple will remain with the bridegroom's parents while their farm home is being remodeled.

Musical Program Given At Democratic Meeting

Through an oversight the musical program performed during the Jackson Day dinner of the Marion County Democratic Club was not mentioned in last night's account of the dinner carried by The Star.

The musical program was under the direction of Thomas Fetter and featured vocal selections by Mary Lou Swigart accompanied by Fred Lacey; accordion solos by Critz Marcatto and piano duet numbers by Gladys and John Kessler. The invocation was by Dr. Edwin A. Brown, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church on Olney avenue.

"Circus" Scheduled By Kenton School

A physical education "Circus," organized by the various departments of the Kenton High school, will be staged at the school Friday night. Included on the program are endurance test, acrobats, cast parade, clown bands, animal acts, sideshows and other acts.

In between acts a simulated walking sideshow will be staged, and will include several series of events, sketches, and impersonations of wild animals. Boxing, stunts, and a variety of clowns, strong man acts and shooting exhibitions will be staged.

The circus will start at 8 p. m.

CALEDONIA BANK IN SUIT

BUCYRUS, April 1—Cognovit judgments totaling $6,000 were taken in common pleas court by the Second National bank of Bucyrus and the Caledonia Banking Co. against Gerald P. Haymond of Crestline, in three actions filed today. The Caledonia bank is seeking to recover $3,053 and the Bucyrus bank the balance.

Editor Startlingly Discloses—A Joke

By The Associated Press

LEESBURG, O., April 1—The folks in this Highland county community expected something from Editor Mack Sauer today. But they still were startled when they picked up his Leesburg Citizen and read in high type:

"Adolf Hitler sent to Wilmington jail.

"Has been working at Clinton county airfield as laborer."

In somewhat smaller type was:

"Eva Braun attending Wilmington college."

The readers, after following the story to its inside page, found it was an April fool's day joke.

Editor Sauer is noted as a practical joker. Several years ago he offered a $10,000 reward to any Highland county couple who would become parents of quintuplets.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

SOME NOT INCLUDED

Editor of The Star: Your editorial in Tuesday night's Star on "Lavish Leave Allowances" is misleading. All civil service employes do not receive 15 days' sick leave per year, nor 26 days' annual leave, or vacation.

That is only for the hard-working folks—those with desk jobs, the employes at our Engineer Depot, etc.

The guy who struggles up your steps with a load of freight (magazines, etc) gets 10 days' sick leave per year and 15 days' vacation. In fact, all Post Office employes get the same.

It's not a bad job (but let's not paint it too rosy) if you like to work.

Dinner for Two

OVEN-BAKED BEANS . . . Served with brown bread.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Housekeepers who have been clamoring for small-size recipes will find some good ones in "Recipes for Two" by Mary Lou Glass, published by John Wiley & Sons, Inc., New York.

There are several reasons why Mrs. Glass' book is outstanding; first of all her husband tasted and approved her recipes—and a man's vote is always reassuring! And because the author is a home economist with an obvious flare for food the best of modern cooking practices are taken into consideration, the recipe directions are clear and the selection of recipes is good.

Thank heavens Mrs. Glass is really serious when she says recipes for two! I have at least three cookbooks on my shelves that purport to be for two but whose recipe amounts are far too large. Most of Mrs. Glass' recipes are for two—but she does not carry this to an extreme. Her cake and pudding recipes will yield four or more servings. This is convenient because these desserts can be served twice or may be used for company meals.

There is excellent introductory material in the book—everything from can sizes and equivalent measures to a short glossary of cooking terms. And here are two sample recipes from the chapter on "Meat Substitutes." When I tried the Cheese Fondue I found that along with a salad, hot muffins and strawberry preserves it made a most delicious lunch.

Cheese Fondue

Scald ½ cup milk; add and stir until dissolved, ½ cup American cheese, grated; stir in 1 teaspoon butter, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, ¼ cup soft bread crumbs, 1 egg yolk beaten; fold in 1 egg white, stiffly beaten; pour in a well-greased baking dish and set in a pan of warm water; bake in a moderate over (350 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes, or until firm; serve immediately; 2 servings. Preparation Time: 45 minutes.

For the days when the bride doesn't use a cookbook oven-baked beans that come in 1 pound 2 ounce jars or cans may be used. Just put them into individual bean pots, heat thoroughly and serve. If you like, brown sugar may be sprinkled over the top before heating. With the beans serve New England brown bread—it too comes in cans to make life easy for a new housekeeper. And of course don't forget the salad—it will round out the meal with crisp crunch and all kinds of vitamins!

FOR AID TO CRIPPLES

BUCYRUS—The pre-Easter sale of paper Easter lilies Saturday by the new Crawford county society for crippled children netted $190.76. Girl Scouts and high school girls carried out the sale for the society, formed under sponsorship of Bucyrus Rotary club. Receipts will be added to those of a similar sale in Galion to establish a fund for aid to crippled children not provided for by other agencies. Dr. E. R. Schoolfield is president of the county organization.

DEATH SENTENCE APPEALED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 30—Harold A. Beach's death sentence was appealed by his attorneys yesterday. The move was expected to delay his execution, set now for June 28. The 23-year-old youth was convicted of slaying Sheila Ann Tuley, 8.

DICKEY PAYS TRIBUTE TO ARMED SERVICES

School Head Writes Letter To Boost Army Day.

Recognition of the armed services in the observance of Army day Tuesday is praised in a communication received by Capt. F. E. Winstead at the office of the Unit Instructor, from L. L. Dickey, superintendent of the Marion public schools. The letter follows:

"Your plan to observe Army Day in Marion on April 6 is to be commended. We show full appreciation for our armed forces in time of war, but we are prone to forget them in time of peace. Many of us hope that some day the world can be policed by an international force, but until that day comes it is highly important that we keep our army an efficient one. Only an aroused public interest can assure national security. The citizens of Marion will have an opportunity to express this interest by cooperating with you in the local observance of Army Day."

Admiral Louis Denfeld took the occasion of preparations for the celebration of Army Day to send a letter to Army Chief of Staff, General Omar Nelson Bradley citing the mutual aims of the services supported by the civilian populace.

The day is a fitting and appropriate occasion to remind the nation that through the closely coordinated efforts of its great military services the military services must remain strong. In strength, he points out, we demonstrate that our great and progressive society can continue to produce efficiently without danger of losing the fundamental liberties upon which our nation is founded.

JUNIOR FAIR BOARD BUSY

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Junior fair board of Wyandot county will start its second year of activities with a reorganization meeting on April 15. Ten new members for two-year terms will be elected from nominations made by 4-H clubs, FFA clubs, Scouts, home economic classes and other groups "showing" at the Junior fair.

Plans for the annual fall show in connection with the county fair are also being made by the Wyandot county rabbit and cavy breeders association. The association recently elected Horace Taylor of near Melmore as show secretary, and has accepted the bid of Wayne Willmann of Parma to judge the fall show.

Large Audience Sees Caledonia Cantata

An Easter pageant, "The Christ of Glory," written and directed by Mrs. Melvin Keeran, was witnessed by an overflow audience Sunday night at the Church of Christ at Caledonia. The program opened with the junior department of the church singing two numbers, followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. Melvin Keeran. Theme of the pageant was centered about the sorrow of Mary, mother of Christ, at her Son's death, her memories of His younger years, and her exultation at His victory over death. This was enacted by a large group of characters with a background of sound and lighting effects, by means of music and by shadow pictures, religious paintings, readings, and reading of Scripture passages.

WORKSHOP CLUB MEETS

CRESTLINE — The Crestline Home Workshop club met in the home shop of Carl Giardino this week. Most of the evening was spent in testing the portal cable belt sander recently purchased by the club. The tool door prize was won by Herbert Klopfenstein and the nail brad carrying case made at the last meeting was won by E. G. Anderson. James Kelso entertained as a magician.

In Roman times, bodies placed on the funeral pyre were wrapped in asbestos cloth to preserve the ashes.

Soviets See Red On U.S. Alaska Bases

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 1—Red Star said today the United States has aggressive intentions in building Alaskan airbases.

The Soviet army newspaper said U. S. air secretary W. Stuart Symington disclosed the aggressive attitude when he said bases were placed to permit planes to bomb any part of Russia and return.

Best Class "B" Basketball Teams Compete Today for Berths in Championship Finals

Glenford Meets Eaton in Afternoon; Lima St. Rose Takes on North Canton

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—The best basketball boys in the Buckeye class B brigade battle it out today.

The cops go down at the state fairgrounds coliseum where Glenford (25-1) meets Eaton (21-2) at 2:30 p. m., and Lima St. Rose (27-2) tangles with North Canton (22-5) at 8 p. m. for Saturday afternoon's final berths to decide the championship of the state's 943 smaller high schools.

The class A squads go into action Friday, with Coshocton (18-5) meeting Hamilton Calvert (25-1), at 2:30 p. m., and Findlay's unvamped Trojans, (25-0), clashing with Canton South (23-1) at 8 p. m. The winners endure Saturday at 8 p. m. for the major loop crown.

New A King Certain

A brand new class A king is certain now of the four survivors of the 226 big schools ever having annexed the crown in the 35 years the scholastic classic has been held.

In class B two previous victors will try again, North Canton having triumphed in 1928, and Glenford in 1941.

Crowds of around 5,000 were slated to see today's class B affairs, unless last-minute customers pick up some of the 2,000 tickets available for each session.

Glenford a town boasting only 231 inhabitants, disposed of 1,766 tickets originally received for the afternoon contest, and then came back for an additional 200—which shows how Perry county is supporting the Golden Horde and three-time All-Ohio Glen Hursey, king pin of the Glenford quintet.

Eaton Unperturbed

Eaton, beaten only by Hamilton Catholic and Dayton Wilbur Wright, both class A schools, did not appear perturbed by the great Glenford record yesterday. The proteges of Coach Gene Ellington failed to show up at the coliseum for their scheduled practice round. Ellington, a graduate of Earlham college of Richmond, Ind., is in his first year as a coach.

All other class B squads took a look at the big 88 by 50 foot coliseum floor yesterday. Class A squads will sandwich practice sessions between today's class B contests.

North Canton's club spent last night here, but both Glenford and Lima St. Rose players were tucked in their own beds at home after the practice rounds yesterday.

Makes 7th Bid

Findlay only unbeaten team in the state, is making its seventh bid for the state class A crown, each of its previous visits having fallen short of the throne room. The Trojans are favored to meet Hamilton Catholic in Saturday's class A finals, but records mean little at this stage.

Last year Middletown walked away with the class A crown for the second straight year after being six in a row a Porter record team that of any 1940 contender.

Columbus' Cuppers, last year's champ class B rulers, bowed out early in the district play, while Middletown fell before Miamisburg on two points after going unbeaten through 22 straight contests.

Monroe, Ohio-Indiana Loop Ump, Sold to AA

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, April 1 — President Frank M. Colley of the Ohio-Indiana league today announced the sale of umpire Willie Monroe of Massillon, O., to the American Association.

Paul Brown's last football captain at Massillon High, Monroe is the fourth Ohio league staff member acquired by the American Association.

Monroe will be replaced on the Ohio-Indiana corps by Jim McClintock of Columbus.

Stallcup Gets There

By way of the United Press comes the information that Cincinnati third baseman Grady Hatton is looking forward to a good year because (1) he's going to keep away from housework, and (2) the Reds have a shortstop who can go to his right.

Last year Grady was hitting fine until he tried to push a carpet sweeper around his apartment and tore "all the muscles in my back," whence his batting average slumped something fierce and he was lucky to end with a .281. He took the pledge—no more housework the Reds had Eddie Miller playing shortstop, which, says Grady, forced him to cover more ground.

"Understand," says Grady, "Eddie and I are good friends, but it is no secret among baseball players that Miller can't go to his right. That meant I had a lot more territory to cover because he wouldn't make a move for some of them, and when I tried, everybody thought they were in my territory. But this year, the Reds have rookie Virgil (Rec) Stallcup at short, and Grady figures his troubles are over. Stallcup replaces Miller who talked his way into the Philly camp when he mounted a blast at the Reds during the off season.

Phillips Oilers Rule As Cage Kings After 53-49 Victory Over Kentucky

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 1—Fourteen basketball players, probably the greatest collection of amateur cagers in the world, were named today to the squad which will represent the United States in the coming Olympic games.

The Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., who defeated the University of Kentucky, 53-49, in the finals of the Olympic tryouts last night, landed five men on the squad, as did the defeated collegians.

Phillips players selected by the 13-man Olympic basketball committee are:

Bob Kurland and Jesse Renick, both of whom played their college basketball at Oklahoma A. and M.; Gordon Carpenter and R. C. Pitts, both from the University of Arkansas, and Lew Beck, from Oregon State.

The Kentucky players selected: Alex Groza of Martins Ferry, O., Wallace Jones of Harlan, Ky., Cliff Barker of Yorktown, Ind., Ken Rollins of Wickliffe Ky., and Ralph Beard of Louisville.

Other places went to Don Barksdale of the Oakland Bittners, Vince Boryla of the Denver Nuggets, Jackie Robinson of Baylor and Ray Lumpp of New York university.

The Phillips cagers now reign as undisputed rulers of amateur basketball, having mounted the throne with unquestioned authority by their triumph over Kentucky.

It was seven-foot Bob Kurland, the Oiler center, who spelled the difference. Kurland controlled play off the backboards and found time to whip in nine baskets and two free throws to lead the winners with 20 points.

Widdoes Denies He's Considering Massillon

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—Carroll C. Widdoes, former head football coach and now an assistant at Ohio State, today denied reports that he was in line for the job as head grid coach at Massillon to succeed William (Bud) Houghton.

"I don't know anything about the Massillon vacancy," Widdoes said. "I have talked with no one about the Massillon position."

The former aide to Paul Brown, both at Massillon and Ohio State, said it was merely a coincidence that he was in Massillon last week enroute to a speaking engagement at nearby North Lima.

Widdoes tutored the 1944 Buckeye Big Nine champions and stepped down after the 1945 season to let Paul O. Bixler take over.

Houghton resigned as head football coach to go to Akron university in the same role.

Marionite Aims for Softball Team Equal to Nation's Best

A Marion softball team on a par with the best in the nation—that's what George Reminger hopes to build in a couple of years.

Reminger production engineer at the Marion Power Shovel Co., played third base for ten years on the powerful Cincinnati Coca-Cola softball team before coming to Marion in 1946 and he doesn't see any reason why Marion can't support a team strong enough to meet such diamond aggregations as the Columbus Auditors, Ft. Wayne Zollners, Cincinnati Coca-Colas and the Lee on an equal footing.

So he has set out to organize a top notch softball team to play under the banner of the Marion Moose, hoping to recruit the best available talent in town whether the players belong to the Moose or not.

He's got the support of several merchants in town too, and is trying to arrange games with the above mentioned teams and other Moose clubs in Ohio.

The team itself has not yet been selected, and won't be until after a few practice sessions are held, the first of which is scheduled to take place on the Marion Armory Friday a week from tomorrow night at 7:30.

Reminger plans to stage his games at Crystal Lake park at night. Whether or not the Moose softballers will join one of the city leagues depends on what kind of schedule with outside teams he can arrange. If he can obtain enough engagements with out of town teams, he probably will not play in a local league.

If the team turns out as expected, Reminger aims to take it to the regional softball tournament in the fall. Last year the Columbus Auditors won the regional, which takes in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and a corner of West Virginia.

Rumor Crisler Will Quit for Business Job

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 1—A wave of speculation was sweeping the University of Michigan campus and the sports world alike today in the wake of a published statement that Athletic Director Fritz Crisler was planning to enter private industry.

The story, originating in the Detroit News yesterday, said the prominent Michigan football figure would take a "position in Chicago" in the next three months. It drew no denial from Crisler—only the repetitive "no comment."

With that same response, the handsome, 49-year-old coach of Michigan's greatest modern football team greeted every questioning concerning the possible change.

University officials, closely connected with the athletic department, expressed complete ignorance of any such intention on the part of Crisler.

WORKS OUT WITH PHILS

By The Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 1—Ed Heusser, veteran righthander, recently purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers, reported and worked out with the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday. He flew in from the Dodgers' Ciudad Trujillo camp. Dutch Leonard also took a short workout following an operation to remove a skin growth on his eye.

2 LEAGUE BOWLERS ROLL PERFECT 300'S

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 1—Two bowlers, rolling in a league match came up with perfect 300 games last night.

George Young, anchor man for the E & B team of Michigan Major league, rolled his perfect game after a 203-224 performance in the first two games.

Reno Minstrelli of the opposing Falcon team hit 300 at the same time and on the same alleys after getting 202-178 in his openers.

Bowling experts said the Detroiters' feat in hitting the double perfect game was one of the rarest occurrances in the sport.

HARDING TO HOLD TRACK MEET TODAY

Intra-Mural Affair at Stadium Opens Season.

An intra-mural track meet will be held after school at the Harding athletic field tonight.

Non-letter winners from Elgin and Harding junior and senior high schools will compete in all field and track events with winners to receive ribbon awards in a school assembly to be held later.

"The meet is being run in an effort to uncover hidden talent and is to be an individual affair," Coach Kenny Somerlot said. Another meet which will include the sophomores, juniors and seniors and lettermen is scheduled for April 7 between teams from the respective grades. The second meet was formerly scheduled to take place April 6, but due to a conflict in events at the school the date has been set tentatively as April 7.

SIGNS WITH TULSA

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 1 — Bob Christophel, 19-year-old southpaw, who pitched last season for Ohio State university, has been signed by Tulsa, the Cincinnati Reds' farm club in the Texas league, and will report immediately to the Oilers, the Red headquarters here announced yesterday. Christophel is a resident of neighboring Sharonville.

Local Cage Season Ends Tomorrow With Tiffin Behms-McMillen Clash at "Y"

The basketball season comes to a close in Marion tomorrow night at the Y.M.C.A. when McMillen Feeds meet the Tiffin Behms in the final game of the Gold Medal basketball tournament.

The Feeds beat Schlaret Transfer and the Behms whipped the Roxy Grill of Delaware to earn the right to appear in the Y. M. C. A.-sponsored tournament. Schlaret will meet Roxy in a consolation preliminary at 7:30 p. m.

The Behms, besides being a very tough cage aggregation, are a claimant point. All of them are former Behms and are trimmers of scores.

Kin in McMillen Camp

But, lest the fans worry that there'll be trife doin' and feudin' between the Behms and the McMillens tomorrow, never fear—the Behms got kin in the other camp. And that's none other than the player-manager of the Feeds, Gene Shellhorn, cousin to the four Behm brothers.

Gene was brought up a half a mile from the Behms and learned basketball with them in their barn. After he moved to Marion, he lost touch with the Behms until he met them at the Y.M.C.A. in the tournament this year.

The Behms won the Y.M.C.A. tournament in Tiffin, while the Feeds were runners-up in the Monday Night league Y tourney here.

McMillen Cagers

On the McMillen team are Kenny Jones, ex-DaRue player, Gene Shellhorn, Fritz Guy, Jim Riley, and Carl Harbolt, all ex-Harding players, Bob "Windy" Winsteiler, and Tom Moran, ex-Mary men, and Gene Lenner, Don Dutt, and Dick Green of Pleasant Green was a new addition, having just recently completed season as an outstanding [illegible] with the Pleasant High school team.

The game is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. in the Y.M.C.A.

Blackwell Admits He Has "Arrived" But Remembers "There Was a Day"

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

TAMPA, Fla., April 1—Ewell Blackwell, his six feet, five inches sprawled loosely over an equipment trunk in the cool locker room of the Cincinnati Reds admitted today that he probably had "arrived" as a major league star but remembered that "there was a day."

A fourteen splashed musically in the palm-studded patio outside the door and Blackie looked out into the neat and smiled sheepishly as he recalled the days when he lacked big league poise.

"Yes, there was a day I was as nervous as a hoochie coochie dancer," he said, and my knees were knocking like castanets. And it was an exhibition game right here in Florida."

Small wonder, either, for that was the day that the gangling guy made his first appearance in organized baseball—as a relief pitcher. And the situation couldn't have been much more tense, even for a veteran.

None Out, 3 On

Because the Reds were playing the Red Sox when Blackwell got the nod to relieve Johnny Vander Meer, and there were none out, the bases were loaded and the mighty Ted Williams was up at the plate.

"Quite a spot," grinned the skinny fellow with the laughing blue eyes who now has plenty of poise after a season which established him as a real star.

And he's almost as proud of that first performance as he is of his record of 22 wins against only eight losses last year one of those triumphs being a no-hitter. For he relishes telling people how Williams sent a roller to third, the next man popped out and he fanned menacing Rudy York.

Although last season was his first winning one in the major after a 9-13 record the previous year, Blackwell definitely is established as one of the aces now and the Reds expect to stay up there a long while.

He Whips It

This despite the fact that is an "arm thrower" and does get his whole body behind pitch. Rather he whips the in with a sidearm motion which makes it seem to come in third base.

"Schoolboy" Rowe of the Phillies, long an established pitcher, watched Blackwell in practice and asserted that if 'Stork' ever gets a sore arm will be washed up quicker than the pitcher who gets his whole body into the motion. But Warren Giles, president of the Reds doesn't agree.

"Blackwell should last as long as anybody," Giles insisted. "He gives the appearance of throwing with his arm only but he is very loose and the strain is well distributed. So we aren't worried about him."

One thing is certain. Blackwell's pitching draws as much attention as the hitting of Ted Williams. No matter what ball park, when thumping Texas core goes up to take his cut most of the players stop whatever they are doing to watch him almost reverously. It's the same way when Big Blackie toes the rubber—everybody agrees it's a mighty pretty thing to see.

Particularly the Reds who do have to hit against him.

Boxing Show Scheduled At Armory April 7 by Trainers

By BILL MURPHY

The newly formed Marion Association of Trainers, consisting of Jimmy Williams, Jack Lewis, Al Van Fossen and Howard Hodges, is making a campaign to put Marion back on the sporting scene starting April 7 with a 10-bout fight card to be staged at the armory.

A second card in a series of, four to be run off at two week intervals will be held April 21. Plans are also being made to hold several outdoor boxing shows during the warmer months.

Fight Card

Fighting on Wednesday's card will be several Golden Gloves champions, winners in the Mansfield Friendly House tournament, and a couple of the better paper-bagers who survived three hard nights of fighting in the local Golden Gloves bouts.

Pat Patterson of Delaware, AAU heavyweight champion here, will tangle with Bill Eccles of Mansfield, runner-up in the F.H. tournament, in the heavyweight class. Charles Ludwig of Marion and Harold Henderson of Delaware will mix in another. Charles Cochrina of Galion, middleweight champ, will fight a return match with Don Esbranshade. Esbranshade won a decision in their first encounter in the Mansfield tournament a month ago.

Jack Seckinger will battle Ray Cardine of Mansfield in a welterweight go, and Harold Waits will engage Buck Rogers. All of the boys except Burdine fought in the Golden Gloves here. Joe Sandig of Byhalia, lightweight title holder, will fight either Carroll Combs or Tom Boyle of Bucyrus.

Lawrence Strahm, finalist at Toledo, will trade punches with Orlando Carbetta, Friendly House champion, featherweight class.

Other Matches

Other matches list Bill Eberhard of Mansfield vs. Johnny Chambers of Marion, featherweight class; Gene Hunt vs. Al Treisch of Galion, flyweight; and Bill Galland vs. Cecil Wright, bantamweight.

In the paperweight class Bobby Hunt will meet Billy Sherman, and Russell Gorell will meet Bobbys' brother, Billy Hunt. The four boys are fans' favorites.

Several of the above contenders, fighting in the state AAU matches failed to advance, but there is no cause for embarrassment—they were traveling in fast company.

Reserved seat tickets went on sale at Singer's Jewelry store at 121 East Center street yesterday. General admission ducats will be sold at the door.

Birk Bros. Brewing, Chicago keglers, hold the ABC record for the five-man event with a score of 3,234 pins, established in the annual tournament held during 1938.

HEGAN'S HOMER BREAKS UP GAME

Blast Defeats Browns, May Insure Position with Tribe.

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1—It's no secret that catcher Jim Hegan has been on the Cleveland Indians' trading block since the end of last season.

President Bill Veeck planned to use the Boston Irishman as trade bit in his efforts to land a front line pitcher.

But Jim made one of his few appearances behind the plate yesterday and his performance indicated that he probably will be around on opening day.

Hegan broke up a game with the St. Louis Browns here yesterday when he clouted a home run with two men on base as the Indians defeated the Browns 12 to 10 in a slugging match.

Jim's round tripper came in the sixth inning with the score tied at 9-all. It was his third hit of the afternoon. Twice previously he had lined sharp singles to left, one of which accounted for another run.

The Tribe's catcher's home run gave the Indians a total of seven runs in the sixth inning explosion, the most they have scored in one frame this year.

The wallop also enabled the Tribesmen to chalk up their 12th springtime triumph against only five defeats and completed the exhibitions series with the Browns.

Steve Gromek started for Cleveland and survived two innings without damage. In the third he was nicked for four runs on four hits and in the fourth gave up one run on two safe blows.

Don Black came to the rescue in the fifth but found the going just as rough. He gave up a pair of walks, one intentional, and a pair of hits which produced four more runs.

Bob Lemon permitted only two hits in the three innings he toiled. One run, unearned because of an error by Robinson, was charged to him in that distance.

The Indians open a two-game series with the Chicago White Sox here today.

MIAMI, Fla.—Chief Gordon House, 137¾, Houston, knocked out Jimmy Hill, 138½, Pittsburgh, 4.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Art Hardy, 153½, San Diego, Calif., outpointed Johnny Gardea, 155, Los Angeles, 10.

NORWALK, Conn.—Herman Badger, 175, New Haven, knocked out Chuck Davis, 172, Westport, 2.

BEULAH WANTS ACTION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 1—Beulah Park Jockey club yesterday asked Franklin county common pleas court to order the State Racing Commission either to grant or reject its application for a spring meeting opening May 8.

Plenty of Action For Tonight

Promoter Fishbaugh has signed up a couple of main events tonight that promise plenty of action on his weekly wrestling show at the Armory, and that isn't any April Fool's joke either. One of the 90 minute matches looks like plenty of TNT for it brings together Jack Kelley and Len Hughes. Hughes' last appearance here ended in a riot with about half of the Armory fans trying to get at him but tonight will be a different story for Jack Kelley use to be a top boxer before turning to the grappling game and will be able to take care of himself; just the same, Len Hughes had to be promised "police protection" before he would sign for the match.

The other main go is between a newcomer from Texas, Gene Blakely, and Balk Estes. Estes has done pretty good for himself in the past several weeks beating another newcomer from Texas, Bill Sledge and last week dumping Bill Murray for the count. Gene might prove a little difficult as he has been beating some shows in Toledo and is said to be "just a little rough."

Donald Duck and Pat Chaboo will team up at 8:30.

Feller Through Aiming for Strikeouts; Wants To Win Games, Lead in Low ERA

By BOB MYERS
AP Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz—Bob Feller is through aiming at strikeout records but two ambitions replace that target—to lead the American league in low earned run averages, and win ball games.

As the kingpin of the Cleveland mound staff, which some unkind critics say begins and ends with Feller, Rapid Robert hopes to improve what he loosely calls a "disappointing" season last year.

True, his 20 wins were the lowest since his full season total of 17 in 1938, but it happens that Feller was the only 20-game winner in the league last year, paced the circut with 196 strikeouts and placed second in the earned run division, with 2.68.

THUMBNAIL PREVIEW
CLEVELAND INDIANS

Pitching—Feller.
Catching—Good.
Infield—Excellent.
Outfield—Fair.
Hitting—Splendid.
Finish—First Division.

That last is a title Feller has never won, and he wants to add it to his collection of honors.

Completely Recovered

He seems completely recovered from the buckled knee injury which put him on the sidelines for a month last year, and as the highest paid ball player in the world, seems destined for another 20-plus year.

Manager Lou Boudreau, of course, would certainly appreciate the same kind of "disappointing" seasons from some of his other pitchers, and unless he finds an improved staff over last year, pennant hopes of the Indians are nothing but sweet dreams. Chief hope as support for Feller seems to be Bob Lemon. Bill Veeck, president of the Indians, has predicted Lemon will hit the 20-game circle and that he and Feller will contribute 45 or more victories between themselves.

Lemon, 27-year-old converted infielder-outfielder, won 11 and lost five last year, but the figures don't tell the story.

Losses Started Late

Boudreau, desperate for a starting pitcher, didn't start Lemon until July 31, and he whipped the Red Sox and went on to win nine more games before the season ended.

He beat Detroit, and held the hapless Browns to two unearned runs in 18 innings, and wound up by hurling a six-hit, 2-1 triumph in a 11-inning battle with the Athletics.

That's why Veeck has such confidence in Lemon—and also why he doubled his pay this year.

If he comes through, and such veterans as Don Black (10-12), Steve Gromek (3-3), Bob Muncrief from the Browns (8-14), Al Gettel (11-10) or Ed Klieman (5-4) deliver comparatively well, things will look up the Indians.

Mound Prospects

In addition, the Tribe has several likely looking prospects in Bill Kennedy, 15-9 with Scranton, Bob Kuzava, 14-13 with Baltimore, Ed Garcia, 17-10 with Wilkes Barre, and Gene Bearden, the big lefthander who won 16 and lost 7 with Casey Stengel's Oakland club after balking at playing with Baltimore.

Bearden, perhaps the most experienced of the new ones, apparently must make the grade this time or resign himself to a minor league career.

Cleveland otherwise is a strong ball club. It's infield of Ed Robinson, Joe (Flash) Gordon, Boudreau and Ken Keltner is hard to beat, and Manager Lou is overloaded with reserve strength in Johnny Berardino, Elbie Fletcher and Rookie Al Rosen.

The Tribe for the first time in years also has its best hitting outfield, a deficiency which cost them pennants in the past. Dale Mitchell, Hank Edwards and Walt Judnich, the latter another ex-Brownie, form one array, while Boudreau has power backing them up in Allie Clark from the Yankees, reliable Hal Peck and Thurman Tucker, and a square-built guy named Pat Seerey who must deliver this year, or else.

Cleveland finished fourth last year. Most people here believe they'll land in second or third this year.

Michigan Aims For 3rd Swimming Title

By The Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 1—Michigan university, shooting for the team title in the National AAU swimming meet to add to its Big Nine and NCAA championships, hopes to get off to a good start tonight by placing one-two in the 1,500-meter freestyle.

Michigan especially would like to pile up a lot of points in the 1,500 so as to get a jump over its perennial rival, Ohio State, which has no one in the event.

Friday night will see champions crowned in five events—the 220-yard freestyle, the 220-yard breaststroke, the one-meter dives, the 300-yard individual medley and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

The finals in six more events complete the program Saturday night. They are the 100-yard freestyle, the 150-yard backstroke, the 440-yard freestyle, the 50-yard junior freestyle, the three-meter dive and the 300-yard medley relay.

Total attendance at major league all-star baseball games, including the one in 1947, reached 572,578 and the total receipts so far have amounted to $813,293.

RED-HOT REDS WHIP PHILS IN SLUGFEST

Win Extends Streak to 6; Meet Cards Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., April 1 — The Cincinnati Reds are red-hot and that's no April Foolin'.

They have their longest winning streak of the season—an even half-dozen—under way, and for their next outing they'll have none other than Ewell Blackwell doing most of the hurling.

The Rhinelanders, who have a day off today, tangle with the St. Louis Cardinals here tomorrow.

The Philadelphia Phillies were victims of the Redlegs, 11-10, yesterday in a slug-fest that featured seven home runs.

Left fielder Hank Sauer came through with the winning blow, a two-run homer in the ninth. Ray Mueller, Marv Rickert, Clyde Vollmer and Ted Kluszewski also clouted round-trippers for Cincinnati.

Trailing 4-2, the Reds came up with six runs in the fourth inning but the Phillies scored one in the sixth and five in the seventh to lead until the ninth.

Rookie Ken Holcombe, who took over with two out in the seventh and limited Philadelphia to one hit the rest of the way, was credited with the victory.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 1 — Twenty years ago (less a week) Lester Patrick, grey-haired, non-playing coach of the New York Rangers, replaced his injured goalie in the nets during a Stanley Cup play-off game and led the club to a thoroughly unexpected victory . . . It was a historic occasion in hockey, not only because of Patrick's unprecedented feat but because up to that time United States teams just didn't win the Stanley Cup . . . Today a battered, bruised collection of Rangers—mingled veterans and rookies—is threatening to do something almost as startling . . . After finishing out of the playoffs five years in a row, they staggered home fourth this season . . . The second-place Detroit Red Wings took the first two games while the Rangers took nothing but more bruises . . . Then the situation was suddenly reversed and they're all square going into the fifth game tonight.

You can't predict a New York victory, but you can point out another 1928 parallel. . . . The Blue Shirts had to play the 1928 finals on the road because the circus was in the Garden. This year the circus moves in again before the final series can start.

CARL VOYLES, coach of the football Dodgers, not only is champion fisherman of "Dodgerville"—that somewhat amazing Brooklyn camp at Vero Beach, Fla.—but he also is track tutor and discoverer of a potential extra-point specialist for his football club. . . . Old Pepper Martin got out on the high school field there the other day and drop-kicked nine out of ten tries.

HARNESS RACING OPENS TOMORROW

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 1 — Harness racing of major league caliber launches its 1948 season at Santa Anita tomorrow, and across the nation followers of the sport will be watching the progress of the 35-day meeting.

It may well be a barometer for the sport this year.

With attendance and betting figures on thoroughbred racing slanting down, the same may or may not apply to the harness people.

The Santa Anita meeting, staged by the Western Harness Racing association as the first leg of the Grand Circuit tour, and with a record $500,000 in purse money on tap, starts off with the $5,000 Pasadena pace.

There was no slanting down on stable interest. An overflow of 27 horses was named for the mile feature, and the management will run it in two sections.

Likely favorite in the first division will be the Diplomat, and the entry of Brother Harmony, Scottish Boy probably will be the popular choice in the second.

Fifteen thousand fans are expected out for the inaugural card.

Attendance for the first season—1946—was 301,156 at Santa Anita, and the handle totaled $12,019,123. Last year at Hollywood, attendance was 263,906, the total handle $13,559,161. Now the pacers and trotters are back at Santa Anita.

DELAWARE DRIVER FINED

Leo Eldridge of route No. 2, Delaware, arrested yesterday at 1 p. m. on route 521 by the state highway patrol, was fined $3 in the Delaware mayor's court on a plea of guilty to a charge of failure to possess a driver's license.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 1—Assorted stocks continued to advance in today's market although many leaders were restrained by professional profit cashing.

Buying still was inspired by the outlook for big government spending on rearmament and European relief.

Dealings were relatively active from the start. Fractional irregularity ruled near midday.

The week's climber, Superior Oil, added a point or so. Ahead at intervals were Republic Steel, General Motors, Chesapeake & Ohio, Standard Oil (NJ), Western Union and Loew's.

Occasional stumblers included Chrysler, Firestone Tire, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Allied Chemical, Mission Corp. and Twentieth Century-Fox.

No April Fool—Cage Team Went Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 1—This is no April Fool — there was one college basketball team which went unbeaten during the recently concluded season.

Homer Cooke, director of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, disclosed today that the West Virginia State College team of Institute, W. Va., had compiled a perfect mark of 23 wins in 23 starts.

The average American spent 130 per cent more for recreation in 1947 than he did before World War II.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent, scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

EDDY DUCHIN, born April 1, 1909, in Cambridge, Mass., was scheduled to follow his pharmacist father's footsteps, but instead made his name as a dance band leader and pianist. After four years' wartime navy service he decided to become a solo pianist. In the 30's Duchin married sugar heiress Marjorie Oelrichs, who died shortly after the birth of their son. Recently he married Mrs. Maria Winn of London.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

General Eisenhower has been made a Boy Scout . . . He already has two invitations to help old parties across the street in Philadelphia.

* * *

The Boy Scouts awarded like the silver buffalo badge in 1946 . . . Now a number of persons are trying to get him to accept the lead donkey or the brass elephant in 1948.

* * *

There's a man who can start a political fire by rubbing any two candidates together but here are no merit badges awarded for sticking your chin out.

* * *

Ike shows every intention of sticking to the Boy Scouts and letting the presidential scouts look elsewhere . . . Which is as good a place as any to find a victim.

* * *

But we're making some progress on tax matters . . . The senate has voted to admit exposed X-ray film into the country duty free.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It By H. T. Webster

HEH! HEH!
WHAT'S SO FUNNY, ED?
I WAS JUST THINKING OF A TEXAS STORY I HEARD. A RANCHER SHOT A MAN AND HIRED A SLICK LAWYER IN FORT WORTH, 300 MILES AWAY, OFFERING A $5,000 FEE
THE LAWYER WIRED BACK, 'LEAVING FOR YOUR TOWN ON NEXT TRAIN. BRINGING THREE EYE-WITNESSES.'
BUT, ED, HOW COULD HE BRING EYE-WITNESSES IF THEY WERE 300 MILES FROM THE SCENE OF THE CRIME? IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE
